

Revelation - Commentary, Part 3rA

2024

This paper is published in the public domain: free for the use of all.

Introduction

We use a simplified punctuation of the text. The Bible Gateway early text presentations (1550 Stephanus, 1881 Westcott-Hort, 1894 Scrivener) are all unmarked. However, “correct” vocalization of Greek is nearly impossible for many Greek readers (ourselves included) so we added punctuation only as a reading and spelling aid. The customary Greek punctuations have no meaning for most readers; we’re not going to give a minimum of a year of silence in listening, just to apprentice as Greek cantors: so, in keeping with official Greek policy we have reduced punctuation to a single accent, the acute or oxia. Single syllable words are left unaccented; since, there is only one place to receive the emphasis: so, any accent on a single syllable word marks a special difference, distinguishing, “or”, from an article; or denoting an interrogative; and the like. With weakening vision, due to age, we also found breathing marks impossible to read: so, we simply eliminated smooth breathing, and replaced rough breathing marks with the (silent) English letter, h, which, we hope clarifies any spelling differences. We hope that this makes Greek easier for you to read, and we will continue to employ this simplified method, until a better one presents itself.

After many months, in some cases years of prayer (James 1:5), the Spirit of God is unveiling meanings from Revelation to us (John 16:13): an insight here, and understanding there; gradually and slowly many, but not all pictures come into focus; not all at once, over long periods of time and intensive study with prayer. Nothing good can be found in this paper unless it came from God.

Bibliography

<https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Revelation%201&version=KJV>

<https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Revelation+1&version=LEB>

<https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Revelation+1&version=TR1550>

<https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Revelation+1&version=WHNU>

<https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Revelation+1&version=SBLGNT>

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/List\_of\_New\_Testament\_papyri

A preliminary comparative text criticism study can be formed by aligning three of these sources side by side in parallel columns:

<https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Revelation+1&version=TR1550,WHNU,SBLGNT>

<https://www.biblegateway.com/passage/?search=Revelation+1&version=WHNU;SBLGNT;THGNT>

A more rigorous study may be found at:

https://www.bibletranslation.ws/download/Robinson\_Pierpont\_GNT.pdf

All of the RP notations used in my paper were gleaned from this source, rather than directly from the RP New Testament. It is physically too hard for me at 86 to hold up a book of this weight and edit at the same time. The book was only consulted if questions arose.

For those who wish to delve more deeply into Revelation text criticism: this is the most helpful, very technical, resource I've found at this date:

https://www.researchgate.net/publication/345971916\_Hernandez\_The\_Greek\_Text\_of\_Revelation\_Oxford\_Handbook\_on\_Revelation

Hoskier, Herman Charles, Concerning the Text of the Apocalypse, two Volumes (Wipf & Stock, Eugene, 2015 reprint of the 1929 original; 751 and 649 pages). This is necessary essential reading in order to grasp some of the scope, complexity, and difficulty of textual criticism, especially in Revelation.

Perschbacher, Wesley J., ed., The New Analytical Greek Lexicon (Hendrickson, Peabody, MA, 2004; 449 pages). Newer editions of this work are poorly bound and easily fall apart after brief use.

Robinson, Maurice A., and Pierpont, William G. The New Testament in the Original Greek (Chilton, Southborough, MA, 2005; 587 pages). The Appendix, pages 533ff is necessarily essential reading in order to grasp the extent of modern (2000 plus) explorations.

Westcott, Brooke Foss, and Hort, Fenton John Anthony, The New Testament in the Original Greek (MacMillan, a reprint of the 1885 original, 620 pages). Hereafter referred to as 1885.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Revelation\_1

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jewish%E2%80%93Roman\_wars

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/First\_Jewish%E2%80%93Roman\_War

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Kitos\_War

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Bar\_Kokhba\_revolt

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Roman\_legion

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ephesus>

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Smyrna>
<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Pergamon>
<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Thyatira>
<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Sardis>
<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ala%C5%9Fehir>
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Laodicea\_on\_the\_Lycus
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Early\_Christianity#Anatolia
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Seven\_churches\_of\_Asia

Vital Reading

Overview

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jewish%E2%80%93Roman\_wars
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Alexandrian\_riots\_\(38\_CE\))
<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Philo>
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jacob\_and\_Simon\_uprising

The First Jewish-Roman War (66-73 AD)

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/First\_Jewish%E2%80%93Roman\_War
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jerusalem\_riots\_of\_66
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Battle\_of\_Beth\_Horon\_\(66\))
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Judean\_provisional\_government
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Galilee\_campaign\_\(67\))
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Siege\_of\_Yodfat
<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Gamla>
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Zealot\_Temple\_siege
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Siege\_of\_Jerusalem\_\(70\_CE\))

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Siege\_of\_Masada

The Second Jewish-Roman War or The Kitos War (115-117 CE)

The Kitos War did not take place principally in the land of Israel, or more specifically in Judea: but it is still counted as The Second Jewish-Roman War in keeping with the predominant practice. Nevertheless, its psychology, psychopathy, sociology, sociopathy, world view, and other driving forces remain the same as in The Third Jewish-Roman War, namely: the anti-Christ<sup>1</sup>, the leaderless random locust plague always jumping around, the imperialist God complex, the strong Freudian sexual perversion, and the implacable Zionism; the two frenemies, the locusts and the imperialists are always striving to control each other... the one by fornication and idolatry... the other by force.

The Third Jewish-Roman War or The Bar Kokhba revolt (132-136 AD)

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Tisha\_B%27Av

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Herodium>

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Betar\_\(ancient\_village\))

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cave\_of\_Horror

---

<sup>1</sup> All having heard the Gospel of Jesus, the Christ of Nazareth: that He is God, Who added to Himself human flesh in His incarnation, that He endured Crucifixion because He loved His Father as He loved us, that He was resurrected from the dead for the salvation of all mankind. He trampled down death by death. Anti-Christ<sup>s</sup> are all those of any and every ethnicity, who have heard this Good News and of their own will, decided to reject this Good News; and as a result, fight against it.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cave\_of\_Letters

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ten\_Martyrs

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Legio\_III\_Cyrenaica

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cassius\_Dio

Text

We, will as far as possible, attempt to recover the oldest text known. Revelation Criticism I and Revelation Criticism II were written in pursuit of this goal. We were unable to complete a deeper study of manuscripts in general, or Aleph/Sinaiticus in particular: so, we are working with WH as a practical, if temporary, Vorlage. We transcribed a Westcott-Hort New Testament (1881) copy of Revelation with added accents.

The Our Translation will be modified as we proceed: since, our studies have led us to WH for our best available temporary Vorlage, rather than SBL. Also, we have learned along the way how some words are better interpreted, while others no longer fit the context: so, Our Translation, must adapt and change: it is now Your Translation.

Revelation 8

As with The Seven days of Creation, where The Seventh Day unfolds a whole new dimensionality; as God rests, the whole dimension of God's providence comes into view; the created universe is designed to provide every human need: so, with the exception of a few miracles, God gets to watch His children play in the wonderful playground He has created for them.<sup>2</sup> Their misbehavior in free will is not unexpected: but, He has provided for that too. God's lovingkindness for His children provides for keeping them safe in every contingency (John 3:16). What human beings do not understand: God sees perfectly.

As with Creation, so also, The Seventh Seal unfolds a whole new dimensionality: a new, but not really new, topic; a further explication of things already discussed... new, but not entirely new. We were talking about The Seven Seals; but, now we are talking about Seven Trumpets and One Bowl: still, The Seventh Seal is not closed. When does The Seventh Seal close? As we round the corner from the 144,000 great evangelists and their fruit, the vector space of silence, Trumpets, and prayers explodes into view. The work of the evangelists has produced a violent reaction. Not everybody loves Jesus. There are anti-Christis in this suffering world of ours (1 John 2:18, 22; 4:3; 2 John 1:7).<sup>3</sup>

We remember that Spirit baptism, being begotten from above, involves a spiritual death and rebirth, which is the reality symbolized in water

---

<sup>2</sup> If we complain that Adam was cast out of Paradise; it is reported that Adam lived 930 years, mostly outside of Eden: that is pretty good provisioning for punishment. Evidently, Adam was now forced to work for it: how sad. We should be very grateful: since, this planet feeds and clothes over eight billion people baptism. However, many Israelites/Jews saw this as a kind of conversion, drawing people away from false Judaism, an apostasy of that era. Such Israelites/Jews did not see Christianity as becoming a True Jew, by following the King and Messiah of the Jews, the Christ of God. Paul and others, mostly Pharisees, were very angered by this, and began to slaughter Christians, wherever they could hunt them down and find them. Hence the Spiritual battle lines are already drawn as Christ<sup>4</sup> vs. anti-Christ.

<sup>3</sup> At least, since Aristotle, the correct logical argument would be to contrast a thesis with its opposite or antithesis: something vs. not-something or anti-something. So, John is following a correct logical method when he discusses Christ vs. anti-Christis: yet, anti-Christis is a term that John evidently invents, and he alone uses. We prefer this term because it emphasizes actions and deeds, rather than ethnicity, thus avoiding claims of racism: this isn't about ethnicity or race, it's about personal moral and immoral behavior.

Lest we lose sight in the forthcoming chapters of complex discussion; this is not merely about strife between human earthly factions: Israelites/Jews, Idumeans, Greeks, Romans. John puts the point on the pencil when he opens with the 144,000 evangelists, with their rapidly approaching one million converts, in the previous chapter; then ends this discussion with the same symbol: after which, he clinches the nail with closing judgments. This discussion is all about Christ vs. anti-Christ. It is this clash of Christ vs. anti-Christ that describes the progress of history more than any other topic, down through the ages of the ages. Does a certain historian write a detailed analysis of this or that particular war? In front of their discussion, write Christ vs. anti-Christ: for, Christ vs. anti-Christ is the root cause behind all history, above all other causes, even above money. What is the significance of the 144,000 evangelists and their converts? This is the significance of the 144,000 evangelists and their converts! Do you want to solve a problem? First, follow the 144,000; then, follow the money.

---

<sup>4</sup> We struggled, whether it was better to write Christ or Christ's. We settled on Christ, most of the time, because Christ won this battle in single combat, as with David over Goliath, and it was the simpler term to use: but, we all know that Christ has a band of followers, now numbering around 2.4 billion... all of these are certainly included in the term, Christ, as His unique Bride.

Many, if not all, Christians strove to love their enemies as commanded by Jesus.

“You have heard that it has been said, you shall love your neighbor, and hate your enemy. But I say to you, ‘Love your enemies, bless those who curse you, do good to those who hate you, pray for those who spitefully use you, and persecute you; that you may be the children of your Father Who is in heaven: for He makes His sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust.’” — Matthew 5:43-45; Luke 6:27, 35-36

“Therefore, if your enemy hungers, feed him; if he thirsts, give him drink: for in so doing you will heap coals of fire on his head.” — Romans 12:20; Proverbs 25:22

We are about to discover how this dynamic plays out in the victory of the Ekklesiae over the anti-Christis and the Tares. As Christ was victor over death by death, the Ekklesiae, the True Judaism overcame false Judaism by their martyrdoms, not by domination. So, yes, Revelation is very much about overcoming by winning anti-Christis to Christ.

John constructs a sizable chiasm: A. the victory of Christ’s 144,000 evangelists over anti-Christis, or false Judaism; B. the anti-Christis<sup>5</sup>, or

---

<sup>5</sup> All having heard the Gospel of Jesus, the Christ of Nazareth: that He is God, Who added to Himself human flesh in His incarnation, that He endured Crucifixion because He loved His Father as He loved us, that He was resurrected from the dead for the salvation of all mankind. He trampled down death by death. Anti-Christis are all those of any and Tares as the locust plague; C. the imperialists, or Roman legions; D. Christ's Victory partially carried out in John's Prophetic Ministry; E. Christ's Witnesses, the Earthly Temple Destroyed; E. The Heavenly Temple Opened (chapter 4 continued); D. Eve's Victory over Satan; C. the imperialists, or Roman legions; B. the anti-Christ, or Tares as the imitation Lamb; A. the victory of Christ's 144,000 evangelists over anti-Christ, or false Judaism. This chiasm is not always clear, and there are many interludes we cannot explain. Nevertheless, this chiasm constructs a giant mountain, which we climb to God's Glory: but, then we must descend the way we came.

The fact that John introduces this chiasm with Christ's 144,000 evangelists, immediately sets the stage for John's theme in Chapters 8 through 14. Christ's 144,000 evangelists symbolically represent the meaning of Ekklesiae as no other. We will shortly discuss the many factions fighting with one another and reported in these chapters: John sets these all aside, and replaces them with the 144,000 evangelists, souls won to Christ, and the anti-Christ. John's linguistic device immediately informs us that his underlying theme in these chapters is the Spiritual battle between Christ and anti-Christ, nothing else. Later, we will discover that John's structure greatly resembles Matthew 13: where the same underlying theme is discussed as the Spiritual battle between Wheat and Tares.

Rv. 8:1 - και ἡὸταν ἠνοιξεν την σφραγίδα την ηεβδόμην εγένετο σιγή εν τω ουρανῶ ηως ηημιώριον

Rv. 8:1 - When He opened The Seventh seal, silence was brought forth in the heaven about half an hour.

---

every ethnicity, who have heard this Good News and of their own will, decided to reject this Good News; and as a result, fight against it.

Possibly an indication of how creation-like the seals are intended to be.

Rv. 8:2 - και είδον τους ηεπτά αγγέλους ηοι ενώπιον του θεού ηεστήκασιν και εδόθησαν αυτοίς ηεπτά σάλπιγγες

Rv. 8:2 - I saw the seven messengers who have stood before God. They were given Seven Trumpets.

We persist in using the term, messengers, rather than, angels. We do not know if these are supernatural created beings or human beings. Rather than predetermine what we do not know in each case, we leave for you to ponder. Remember that Jesus, is a messenger, the God-man messenger, not a supernatural created being. Remember that the twenty-four presbyters, the seven stars, and the four Zoa are all human, or symbolic representations of the human. Revelation is symbolism: we don't always realize when we are stepping in and out of symbolism and into fleshly realities or something else. The symbolism may be indefinite: but, the message is clear, or, as with Christ's parables, will become clear.

Rv. 8:3 - και άλλος άγγελος ήλθεν και εστάθη επί του θυσιαστηρίου έχων λιβανωτόν χρυσούν και εδόθη αυτώ θυμιάματα πολλά ήίνα δώσει ταις προσευχαίς των ηαγίων πάντων επί το θυσιαστήριον το χρυσούν το ενώπιον του θρόνου

Rv. 8:3 - Another messenger came and was stationed at the altar, having a golden censer. Many incenses were given to him that he will give [with] the prayers of all the saints upon the golden altar before the throne.

The prayers of the saints bear considerable weight as they come from the throne of God. God hears them and acts in their best interests. Prayer is anything other than a meaningless waste of time: it is at the heart of the future. Prayer is the heart of the Ekklesiae in action, in Spiritual warfare.

Rv. 8:4 - και ανέβη ὁ καπνός των θυμιαμάτων ταις προσευχαίς των αγίων εκ χειρός του αγγέλου ενώπιον του θεού

Rv. 8:4 - The smoke of the incenses ascended [with] the prayers of the saints from the messenger's hand before God.

Our prayers do ascend to God; just as we are about to ascend John's chiasm to see the Glory of God unfolded in symbols: even so our prayers ascend to God.

Rv. 8:5 - και εἴληφεν ὁ ἄγγελος τον λιβανωτόν και ἐγέμισεν αὐτόν εκ του πυρός του θυσιαστηρίου και ἔβαλεν εις την γην και ἐγένοντο βρονταί και φωναί και αστραπαί και σεισμός

Rv. 8:5 - The messenger has received the censer<sup>6</sup>. He filled it from the fire of the altar. He threw [it] into the land (την γην, Ha' Aretz). Thunders, voices, streams of light, and shaking came forth.

We suspect that this messenger is Jesus: He is uniquely our intercessor with the Father.

---

<sup>6</sup> Or frankincense.

The fiery red-hot coals and ashes, residual from our prayers, descend upon the land, Ha'Aretz, in final judgment.

John introduces at least two new things in The Seventh Seal: The Seven Trumpets and The Censer (λιβανωτόν). There is only one Censer here: will it be distributed to other messengers to become The Seven Plagues (πληγάς) of Chapter 15 and/or The Seven Bowls (φιάλας) of Chapter 16? Or, is there a second set of Plagues and Bowls? NO! We have come to believe that Revelation is clearly divided at the end of Chapter 14 and the beginning of Chapter 15. We believe that the reaping of the Wheat and the Grapes by Christ in Chapter 14, signals the closing mark of The Seven Seals, The Seven Trumpets, The Three Woes, and The Bowl: but John doesn't really say that anywhere.

Since The Seals are a synopsis of Christ's absolute and total authority over the whole universe, there may be other significant things which we have mistakenly overlooked. For example, the half hour silence in heaven might also be significant. The fire from the altar is already thrown upon earth: has the cataclysm<sup>7</sup> already begun? This does not seem to be the case: for, the reaping of the Wheat and the Grapes signals the end of the cataclysm before it has begun. There is no cataclysm; this is a local event: so, judgment must begin again in Chapter 16.

The silence may exist, simply to force us, to remember the Seventh Day of Creation.

In any case, The Seven Trumpets and The Bowl appear to bear a strong connection: they are likely best examined by seeking interrelationships between the two. What are those interrelationships? It appears that The Seven Trumpets are the calling out of the Ekklesiae to Spiritual battle; The Bowl is the Ekklesiae engagement in that Spiritual battle: going on behind the sinful physical battle in progress on earth. The Spiritual battle rages for the salvation of human souls: it is the Spiritual battle of Christ vs. anti-Christ.

---

<sup>7</sup> We are using this term in the sense of the destruction of planet earth by fire.

We are now exploring the working hypothesis that the first five verses of Revelation 8 introduce The Seven Trumpets; that The Seven Trumpets are best seen as a spiritual analysis of The First Jewish-Roman war. Since, this is the case, we must search for evidence to overthrow this hypothesis.<sup>8</sup>

On the other hand, to maintain logical balance, a neutral point of view (NPOV), we must postulate the opposite hypothesis, and attempt to disprove that as well. The Seven Trumpets have nothing to do with The First Jewish-Roman war.

That being said, we must set aside every preconceived notion of preterism, futurism, historicism, idealism, millennialism (post, mid, or pre), tribulationism (post, mid, or pre), or any other ism littering the field of Apocalyptic studies. Then whatever falls out of our unbiased research will confront us: and we can figure out what to call it when the smoke has cleared away.

---

<sup>8</sup> It usually takes millions of pieces of evidence to suggest a proof of any hypothesis; it takes one clear negative to disprove the same hypothesis: it is simply easier to disprove any hypothesis; a mere suggestion of proof is always more difficult and often becomes impossible.

So, let us now set out to disprove both our working hypothesis, and its opposite hypothesis, which is the correct logical method.

We will discuss later whatever follows in The Seven Bowls, which could be seen as a further spiritual analysis; after that the rest of history until the Second Coming and Last Judgment... with the introduction of The New Jerusalem, The Heavenly City, and The New People of God.

Unfortunately, we are not subject matter experts on these topics: the extent of our knowledge is limited to encyclopedia articles we have read, seminary classes, and the like. So, the ultimate conclusions are dependent on the contributions of such subject matter experts. The conclusions we have drawn are only offered tentatively, as they await correction by our betters.

Nor do we present a detailed precise analysis, or rigorous argument: we are not entitled know-it-alls who have all the answers. Rather, we have presented the problem as completely as we are able, and hope to engage you, the reader, in finding evidence: your involvement is essential... we can't find any solution without you. So, we throw out an idea here and there as things come to mind: yet, we desperately need you to finish the work.

At first glance, we have little to no evidence, either good or bad, refuting either hypothesis statement. The writing genre of John, in contrast with Josephus, as well as other authoritative historical voices, is so completely different as to make comparative evaluation nearly impossible. The subject matter is also vastly divergent: Josephus admits to little or no Christian matters or any spirituality; John writes almost exclusively from the spiritual perspective... it is difficult to match the twain.

Rv. 8:6 - και hoi heptá áγγελοι hoi éχοντες τας heptá σάλπιγγας ηητοίμασαν ηαυτούς hίνα σαλπίσωσιν

Rv. 8:6 - The seven messengers, those having The Seven Trumpets, prepared themselves so that they could trumpet.

This clearly introductory sentence tends to set aside, whatever follows, as a new emphasis or topic: a transition or turning point directing or redirecting The Seventh Seal. As obviously as this develops from The Seventh Seal; it is equally obviously, somehow a new subject. It is this new subject matter which we seek to identify or deny as The First Jewish-Roman war.

The Seventh Seal opens upon silence, Trumpets, incense, smoke, and ashes. The silence echoes the rest of God in Creation. The Trumpets suggest a calling out, Ekklesia, to meet, to march or to war. The incense, smoke, and ashes remind us of the golden altar inside the Oracle, where part of the sacrifice, was mingled with the prayers of the saints, with incense, and with red hot coals; as the sacrifice and incense burned, the prayers and smoke were carried up before God, the hot ashes were left in The Bowl beneath. To empty this Bowl into the land (την γην, Ha' Aretz): shows judgment upon those for whom the martyrs were praying, as they responded either negatively or positively to all such prayers.

As The First Four Trumpets sound, the total death toll of the first Jewish-Roman war is revealed: one-third in all, everywhere, over all.<sup>9</sup>

---

<sup>9</sup> “According to Moshe David Herr's estimation, approximately one-third of the Jewish population in Judaea perished during the revolt.” —

Most of this death toll amounts to the Christian martyrs who have just prayed: as the war unfolds there will be other Israelite/Jewish dead, Roman dead (mostly soldiers), and a few others. This is not coincidental, is it? Christians who have been praying, have not called fire down on their own heads, have they? No, they are just part of the process in reaching the one-third total death toll of mostly Israelites/Jews. The total death toll echoes repetitively down each of The First Four Trumpets.

Rv. 8:7 - και ho πρώτος εσάλπισεν και εγένετο χάλαζα και πύρ μεμιγμένα εν haίματι και εβλήθη εις την γην και το τρίτον της γης κατεκάη και το τρίτον των δένδρων κατεκάη και πας χόρτος χλωρός κατεκάη

Rv. 8:7 - The first trumpeted. It brought forth hail, and fire, having been mingled with blood. It was thrown into the land (την γην, Ha'Aretz). The third of the land (της γης, Ha'Aretz) was consumed by fire. The third of the trees was consumed by fire. All green grass was consumed by fire.

This is about the Israelites/Jews living in Ha'Aretz. If all green grass for all the world had literally been consumed by fire, it is unlikely that any human life would survive the conflagration, let alone one third. All of the grass of Ha'Aretz is bad enough: if you've ever experienced grass fires, you know what I'm talking about. More likely, grass is a symbolism indicating the uncounted deaths of poor people, peasants: trees are a symbolism for important people, the wealthy.

---

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/First\_Jewish%E2%80%93Roman\_War#cite\_note-:48, Demographic consequences.

“The voice said, ‘Cry’. And he said, ‘What will I cry?’ ‘All flesh is grass, and all the goodness thereof is as the flower of the field.’ ” — Psalm 129:6; Isaiah 40:6-8; James 1:11; 1 Peter 1:24

Rv. 8:8 - και ho δεύτερος άγγελος εσάλπισεν και ηως όρος μέγα πυρί καιόμενον εβλήθη εις την θάλασσαν και εγένετο το τρίτον της θαλάσσης हाίμα

Rv. 8:8 - The second messenger trumpeted. [Something] as a great mountain, burning with fire, was thrown into the sea. The third of the sea brought forth blood.

Here is a strong tip that the destruction of Jerusalem and Herod’s Temple is already upon us. If this is later confirmed, then the fixed date of 70 AD is realized.

Rv. 8:9 - και απέθανεν<sup>10</sup> το τρίτον των κτισμάτων των εν τη θαλάσση τα έχοντα ψυχάς και το τρίτον των πλοίων διεφθάρησαν

Rv. 8:9 - The third of the creatures in the sea, those having souls died. The third of the boats were wrecked.

Since Solomon and the Phoenicians, the Israelites/Jews had become skilled sailors, and sea traders: mingling with Greeks and Romans in the Mediterranean. One third of the Israelites/Jews at sea also died: their boats lost at sea, or wrecked on the beach.

---

<sup>10</sup> 1885 has απέθανε.

Rv. 8:10 - και ho τρίτος άγγελος εσάλπισεν και έπεσεν εκ του ουρανού αστήρ μέγας καιόμενος ηως λαμπάς και έπεσεν επί το τρίτον των ποταμών και επί τας πηγάς των ηυδάτων

Rv. 8:10 - The third messenger trumpeted. A great star fell from the heaven, burning as a lamp. It fell upon the third of the rivers, and upon the springs of the waters.

Rv. 8:11 - και το όνομα του αστέρος λέγεται ho άψινθος και εγένετο το τρίτον των ηυδάτων εις άψινθον και πολλοί των ανθρόπων απέθανον εκ των ηυδάτων ήότι επικράνησαν

Rv. 8:11 - The name of the star is called Absinthe. The third of the waters brought forth [~~into~~] Absinthe. Many of the people died from the waters; since, they were soured.

John's meaning is not entirely clear here: since, neither Absinthe nor Wormwood is known to be toxic in modest quantities. Both have been used throughout history as beverages and medications. So, John may be preying on local superstitions or referencing another truly poisonous substance. John may simply mean that many people, being inebriated and in drunken rage or stupor, were killed: this better fits the idea of psychotic mob behavior.

The major fresh water systems were the feed waters for Galilee and the Jordan. One third of those found there, also died. This is John's class of people: Galilean fishermen, and the like.

Rv. 8:12 - και ho τέταρτος άγγελος εσάλπισεν και επλήγη το τρίτον του ηηλίου και το τρίτον της σελήνης και το τρίτον των αστέρων ήίνα σκοτισθή το τρίτον αυτών και ηη ημέρα μη φάνη το τρίτον αυτής και ηη νυξ ηομοίως

Rv. 8:12 - The fourth messenger trumpeted. The third of the sun, the third of the moon, and the third of the stars was hit; so, that the third of them would be darkened. The third of day would not be shined; the night likewise.

The symbol of Joseph's dream (Genesis 37:9 - sun, moon, stars) is revisited: Israel's reposed families in Hades are also cast into grief. Today, we would say that Joseph was rolling or spinning in his grave.

The First Four Trumpets indeed seem to be an apt, albeit very brief analysis of The First Jewish-Roman war; which Josephus describes as destroying roughly one-third of the population and characterized by strife among the Jews themselves: Josephus speaks at length about the various involvements of Israelite/Jewish factions throughout the seven years long war... Pharisees, Sadducees, Herodians, Zealots, Sicarii, and peasants. The people were often trampled underfoot by their own factions.

However, the usual discussion of Israelite/Jewish factions is often trivial in comparison with the Bible's analysis of the subject. It is not unusual to find the topic end with Pharisees, Sadducees, and Herodians.... To begin with, the very name of Israel suggests thirteen tribal factions, the thirteenth being added when Jacob adopts Joseph's two sons: they were not always perfectly loving brothers. Secondly, the very term Israel/Judah remembers the bitter division of the Davidic Kingdom as the two form separate waring kingdoms, and lasting frenemies: frenemies in that they were in and out of bizarre relationships; yet, always in tension. Thirdly, the name Herodians really suggests at least three factions: for, with the forced conversion of Edom, aka Idumea, to Judaism, Herod did eventually win political control; many Idumeans remained simply loyal Idumeans; other Idumeans fell in love with Judaism to become sincere Idumean-Jews; there were doubtless other smaller Idumean groups. Fourth, John lists trees and grass: the trees probably being wealthy farmers, merchants, ranchers, and the like, whose primary interest in life was remaining wealthy; the grass most likely being peasants who were trying to survive as others made it their practice to walk all over them, and trample them under foot. Fifth, other factions come to mind as The Fire Horse Rider suggests a people that were always fighting, even when a major war was not underway: gangs, criminal elements, thieves, pickpockets, murderers, and more; The Black Horse Rider suggests a hostile market place, where caveat emptor was always in play, and people gripped their purses with vise-like determination. Let us not forget the outcasts like Samaritans and tax collectors. The fact that Levi was a tax collector, speaks of a person who was either exceptionally greedy, or so very poor that he felt compelled to do despicable work just to keep his family afloat. In short, Israel/Judah has all of the terrors of any bad, complex, factious, criminally infested, modern city. There is war in every street, with any police force struggling to maintain law and order: it is just impossible to rid cities of crime. John replaces all these factions with the division between Christ and anti-Christ.

Around 104 BC the Edomites, also called Idumeans, were conquered by the Hasmoneans and forced to convert to Judaism.<sup>11</sup> Herod the Great was the Idumean, who became the major political force in Judea, around 72 to 4 BC<sup>12</sup>, which lasted as a tetrarchy until around 6 AD, a limited

---

<sup>11</sup> https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Hasmonean\_dynasty

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Herodian\_dynasty

<sup>12</sup> https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Herod\_the\_Great

kingship until 44 AD, and finally a nominal kingship until it trickled to death around 92 AD.<sup>13</sup>

The deaths of approximately one-third of the population of Israel<sup>14</sup> (the land, the promised land, not the earth) seems to agree with our working hypothesis, while refuting the opposite hypothesis.

The time frame, which is obviously first century, also seems to confirm the working hypothesis, and refute the opposite hypothesis.

This is precious little, and hardly conclusive.

The underlying causes of this turmoil, whether or not the Jewish-Roman wars is harder to assess. Certainly, the multiplicity of factions is a cause. Jealousy and strife with Greek and Roman cultures is also in play: Judaism simply clashed with these cultures, ostensibly over idolatry. However, the Israelites/Jews had their own idolatrous and lascivious practices<sup>15</sup>: more likely the prime motivation was the underlying desire and jealousy over being an independent kingdom, e.g. Zionism. “We have always been free” (John 8:33)! John raises an even greater cause, which does not seem to be mentioned anywhere else:

---

<sup>13</sup> https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Hasmonean\_dynasty

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Herodian\_dynasty

<sup>14</sup> “According to Moshe David Herr's estimation, approximately one-third of the Jewish population in Judaea perished during the revolt.” — https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/First\_Jewish%E2%80%93Roman\_War#cite\_note-48, Demographic consequences.

<sup>15</sup> The archaeological sites in and around Jerusalem are littered with clay idols.

namely, the rapid growth of Christianity. Which especially enraged the Pharisees. Spiritually, this is a war between Christ and anti-Christ.

Moreover, the more we examine the very diverse subject matter content of these many verses, the less inclined we are to accept the idea that the whole is best structured around the outline of Seven Trumpets. Rather, John spends more time on divergent analyses (side tracks) found in The Three Woes than he does on the Trumpets themselves; these side tracks seem to happen because John's logic structure demands their placement: but, these side tracks seem otherwise unrelated to The Seven Trumpets themselves. This is similar to The Four Horse Riders, that only seem to introduce the bulk contained in the last three of the Seal topics, which are radically divergent. So, we may be working with some kind of 4-7, or 4-3, or 4-3-7 unidentified poetic or syntactical construct<sup>16</sup>.

Can we plausibly explain this? The following Three Trumpets, also called, Woes, help our understanding. Verse 8:13 provides an introductory note, as we turn again into another new dimension.

Rv. 8:13 - και είδον και ήκουσα ηενός αετού πετομένου εν μεσουρανήματι λέγοντος φωνή μεγάλη ουαί, ουαί, ουαί, τους κατοικούντας επί της γης εκ των λοιπών φωνών της σάλπιγγος των τριών αγγέλων των μελλόντων σαλπίζειν

Rv. 8:13 - I saw and I heard one eagle, soaring in midheaven, saying in a great voice, "Woe! Woe! Woe to those dwelling upon the land (της γης, Ha' Aretz), from the remaining voices of The Trumpets of the three messengers waiting to trumpet.

---

<sup>16</sup> For example: <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Quatrain>

This dramatically disrupts the continuity of Trumpets. John himself, the great evangelist, is the Great Eagle, foretold by Ezekiel. The Eagle introduces Three Woes, indicating a different perspective or topic among The Trumpets.

Revelation 9

Rv. 9:1 - και ho πέμπτος άγγελος εσάλπισεν και είδον αστέρα εκ του ουρανού πεπτωκότα εις την γην και εδόθη αυτώ ηη χλεις του φρέατος της αβύσσου

Rv. 9:1 - The fifth messenger trumpeted. I saw a star from the heaven having fallen into the land (την γην, Ha'Aretz). The key of the shaft of the Abyss was given to him.

Elsewhere, from Joseph's dream, stars have represented Israelite/Jewish tribal family headship, and/or the leaders (Bishops?) of the Ekklesiae. This star holds a key, he has authority, he either is Jesus, or he works for Jesus. Remember that Jesus said, "all authority is given unto Me" (Matthew 28:18). This is authority. Everybody knows what a silly blunder was made in translating, εξουσια, as power: εξουσια, means authority, not power. The difference is that authority aims the weapon, gun powder adds power; authority steers the vehicle, gasoline provides power: Jesus directs the Heavenly Kingdom, the Spirit makes it happen, because, He is The Vicar of Christ on Earth.

Rv. 9:2 - και ήνοιξεν το φρέαρ της αβύσσου και ανέβη καπνός εκ του φρέατος ηως καπνός καμίνου μεγάλης και εσκοτώθη ho ήλιος και ho αήρ εκ του καπνού του φρέατος

Rv. 9:2 - He opened the shaft of the Abyss. Smoke ascended from the shaft as smoke from a great furnace. The sun and air was wrapped in darkness from the smoke of the shaft.

Rv. 9:3 - και εκ του καπνού εξήλθον ακρίδες εις την γην και εδόθη αυταίς εξουσία ηως έχουσιν εξουσίαν ηοι σκορπίοι της γης

Rv. 9:3 - From the smoke locusts came out into the land (την γην, Ha' Aretz). Authority was given to them, as the scorpions in the land (της γης, Ha' Aretz) have authority.

The authority of an insect<sup>17</sup> is its ability to control its movements: in the case of a scorpion, its ability to aim its sting.

Rv. 9:4 - και ερρέθη αυταίς ήίνα μη αδικήσουσιν τον χόρτον της γης ουδέ παν χλωρόν ουδέ παν δένδρον ει μη τους ανθρώπους ηοίτινες ουκ έχουσιν την σφραγίδα του θεού επί των μετώπων

Rv. 9:4 - It was told them that they will not tear up the grass of the land (της γης, Ha' Aretz), nor any greenery, nor any tree; except the people who do not have the seal of God upon the foreheads.

Rv. 9:5 - και εδόθη αυταίς ήίνα μη αποκτείνωσιν αυτούς αλλ ήίνα βασανισθήσονται μήνας πέντε και ηο βασανισμός αυτών ηως βασανισμός σκορπίου ήόταν παίση άνθρωπον

---

<sup>17</sup> I do not know whether to scientifically classify a scorpion-locust-horse as an arachnid, insect or mammal.

Rv. 9:5 - It was given to them that they could not kill them; but, they will be tortured five months. Their torture [is] as a scorpion's torture whenever it would sting a person.

Rv. 9:6 - και εν ταις ημεραις εκειναις ζητήσουσιν ηοι άνθρωποι τον θάνατον και ου μη ευρήσουσιν αυτόν και επιθυμήσουσιν αποθανείν και φεύγει ηο θάνατος απ αυτών

Rv. 9:6 - In those days, people will seek Thanatos. They will never, ever find it. They will long to die. Thanatos flees from them.

Rv. 9:7 - και τα ηομοιώματα των ακρίδων ηόμοια ηίπποις ηητοιμασμένοις εις πόλεμον και επί τας κεφαλάς αυτών ηως στέφανοι ηόμοιοι χρυσώ και τα πρόσωπα αυτών ηως πρόσωπα ανθρώπων

Rv. 9:7 - The likeness of the locusts [is] like horses having been prepared for war. Upon their heads [are] as crowns like gold. Their faces [are] as human faces.

Rv. 9:8 - και είχαν<sup>18</sup> τρίχας ηως τρίχας γυναικών και ηοι οδόντες αυτών ηως λεόντων ήσαν

Rv. 9:8 - They now have hair as women's hair. Their teeth now are as lion's.

---

<sup>18</sup> 1885 has είχαν.

Rv. 9:9 - και είχαν<sup>19</sup> θώρακας ὡς θώρακας σιδηροῦς και ἡ φωνή των περὺγων αὐτῶν ὡς φωνή ἡαρμάτων ἵππων πολλῶν τρεχόντων εἰς πόλεμον

Rv. 9:9 - They now have breastplates as iron breastplates. The voice of their wings [is] as a voice of many chariots of horses running into war.

Rv. 9:10 - και ἔχουσιν ουράς ἡομοίας σκορπίοις και κέντρα και ἐν ταῖς ουραῖς αὐτῶν ἡ ἐξουσία αὐτῶν ἀδικῆσαι τοὺς ἀνθρώπους μήνας πέντε

Rv. 9:10 - They have tails like scorpions, with stings also in their tails. Their authority to hurt [~~the~~] people [is] five months.

Rv. 9:11 - ἔχουσιν ἐπ αὐτῶν βασιλέα τὸν ἀγγελοῦ τῆς ἀβύσσου ὄνομα αὐτῷ ἡεβραῖστί ἀβαδδὼν και ἐν τῇ ἡελληνικῇ ὄνομα ἔχει ἀπολλύων

Rv. 9:11 - They have a king over them, the messenger of the Abyss. His name in Hebrew [is] Abaddon. In [~~the~~] Greek, he has [the] name Apollyon.

This is The Fifth Trumpet, also called The First Woe. It is also the first half of the second or “B” stage of the giant poetic chiasm that John is constructing. Perhaps the most remarkable feature of this symbolic vision is its locust-scorpions, or are they grasshopper-scorpions, or are they horse-locust-scorpions, or are they bug sized horse-locust-scorpions, or something else. Whatever they are, John is clearly mocking them by overlaying the symbolism of an Egyptian locust plague.

---

<sup>19</sup> 1885 has είχαν.

We spent many hours searching for ancient weapons that looked as if they shot from a scorpion like tail mechanism. However, they all fail one simple test: because their strike is lethal, not toxic and temporary. Locusts and scorpions may have great personal authority: but, outside of a mob or plague, they have little power.

“The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar: and he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like birds' claws.” — Daniel 4:33

Then we remembered that when Nebuchadnezzar, in pride, defied God, he was taken by an animal kind of madness for a period of time.

Many of the Israelites/Jews have been living in defiance of God, as anti-Christians, for just about thirty-three years or more: since the Crucifixion and even before. Even though the scorpion sting is temporary, not lethal, many are trampled to death anyway, just by the crush of the mob. The pressure to receive Jesus as the Messiah of Israel, the King of the Jews, plagues many: hesitation and uncertainty promote madness. Many, like Paul, and other Pharisees, have taken it upon themselves to judge Christians guilty of blasphemy and punish them by stoning to death: but, this has to be ripping families and dear lifelong friendships to pieces... all do not agree with the judgment of blasphemy and the attendant “legal” sentence of death by stoning. Guilt and grief grow in the general populace and in the murderers until they are struck with a five-months madness as a result of the prayers of the martyred saints and God’s concluding judgment in the hot ashes. Even though their madness is temporary; their resultant actions are not temporary: in their increasing madness, they kill even all the more. The madness may not be lethal: but, many of its resultant actions are. No longer able to kill Christians, they start to murder each other. As their madness accelerates they demand free nationhood: they begin to ambush, trap, and slaughter smaller Roman units. This, Nebuchadnezzar-like, madness now engulfs thousands, perhaps millions of people: not just one.

These are people: with human faces; long hair; crowns like gold, but not real gold; breastplates like iron, but not real iron; all their features are false imitations of something real. In their madness, they follow Satanic leadership. Life under these conditions is Hell in the land: there is not even any ordinary escape in death. Still, if large and concentrated enough, even locust plagues may inadvertently kill. The Romans will only put up with this out-of-control behavior for so long.

The fact that the grass (peasants) and trees (wealthy) are to remain unharmed seems to indicate that this Fifth Trumpet predates The First Trumpet chronologically.

The Fifth Trumpet introduced demonic involvement, or possibly Herodian involvement, described as a demonic plague of insects (a lesser power?). If Herod Agrippa II ((?)-92/100)<sup>20</sup>, he is described as ascending out of the Abyss (Gehenna (?)); he is called Abaddon (Hebrew: destruction, doom) or Apollyon (Greek), which is possibly to imply Satan. The comparison of Herod with Satan, or Satan with Herod is indeed sarcastic: since Herod is reported to have fled around 66 AD, it

---

<sup>20</sup> https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Herodian\_dynasty

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Herod\_the\_Great

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Herod\_Archelaus

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Herod\_Agrippa

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Herod\_Agrippa\_II

is unlikely that he is the acting leader: we are forced to reject this notion. So, we are tempted to believe that John may be talking about Satan himself; which seems to have little to do with the earthly War of the Jews: so we are inclined to reject this idea as well. So, finally, we conclude that the Fifth Trumpet describes the Israelite/Jewish mental estate as irrational, demon possessed, and warring factions: which, like the plagues in Egypt, like grasshoppers or locusts, they have no real leader, they just leave destruction everywhere in their wake. Indeed, we are inclined to believe that as many or more Jews were killed by other Jews, than by Romans.

Rv. 9:12 - η η οαί η η μία απήλθεν ιδού έρχεται έτι δύο οαί μετά ταύτα

Rv. 9:12 - The One Woe passed away. Look! Yet Two [more] Woe[s] come[s] with these [things].

The Second Woe has arrived.

Rv. 9:13 - και η ο έκτος άγγελος εσάλπισεν και ήκουσα φωνήν μίαν εκ των κεράτων του θυσιαστηρίου του χρυσού του ενώπιον του θεού

Rv. 9:13 - The sixth messenger trumpeted. I heard one voice from the horns of the golden altar before [the] God,

Rv. 9:14 - λέγοντα τω ήκτω αγγέλω η ο έχων την σάλπιγγα λύσον τους τέσσαρας αγγέλους τους δεδεμένους επί τω ποταμώ τω μεγάλω ευφράτη

Rv. 9:14 - saying to the sixth messenger, the one having the trumpet, release the four messengers, having been confined at the great river Euphrates.

Is this the same release as that of the four winds (Revelation 7:1)? This supports the previous note, “The fact that the grass and trees are to remain unharmed seemed to indicate that The Fifth Trumpet predates The First Trumpet chronologically.” So, The Sixth Trumpet may coincide chronologically with the deaths of The First Four Trumpets. We might even ask if the four messengers being released are also the same as the first four trumpeters?

Rv. 9:15 - και ελύθησαν ἡοι τέσσαρες ἄγγελοι ἡοι ηητοιμασμένοι εις την ἡώραν και ηημέραν και μήνα και ενιαυτόν ἡίνα αποκτείνωσιν το τρίτον των ανθρώπων

Rv. 9:15 - The four messengers, having been prepared for the hour, day, month, and year, were released, so that they could kill a third of the people.

Here is another repetition of that one-third theme (Revelation 8:7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and now again 9:15) that might equal five or six thirds (if this describes an addition). Annihilation of 160 to 200% of a population is a mathematical absurdity, an impossibility. One-third is the sum of total destruction in Chapters 8-14. This Second Woe is the coming of the Romans to put down the Israelite/Jewish insurrection. This is The Sixth Trumpet, also called The Second Woe. It is also the third or “C” stage of the giant poetic chiasm that John is constructing.

Rv. 9:16 - και ἡο αριθμός των στρατευμάτων του ηηππικού δισμυριάδες<sup>21</sup> μυριάδων ἡέκουσα τον αριθμόν αυτών

---

<sup>21</sup> 1885 has δις μυριάδες.

Rv. 9:16 - The number of the soldiers, [and] of the cavalry: two myriads, [and] one myriad, I heard their number.

The syntax used here does not differ from similar uses:

- † μυριάδες (nominative plural) μυριάδων (genitive plural), και
- † χιλιάδες (nominative plural) χιλιάδων (genitive plural),
- † δισμυριάδες (nominative plural) μυριάδων (genitive plural).

However, it seems evident that the ancients used numbers differently than we do: for us, numbers are separated in sets of thousands, and we mark this by setting a comma between them:

- † one thousand: 1,000;
- † one million: 1,000,000;
- † one billion: 1,000,000,000.

It does not appear to us that this is the case in Greek: a μυριάδες is a new number, not ten χιλιάδες. The nominative followed by the genitive does not necessarily mean that the two are to be multiplied: one hundred million and one million. The first two sets above do not continue the multiplication to one hundred trillion: for the sets are parted with, και, which is often a full stop of some kind in both Greek and in Hebrew.

The third set begins with αριθμός των στρατευμάτων (genitive plural) του ιππικού (genitive singular).

- † In the first place, we cannot multiply στρατευμάτων by ιππικού.
- † In the second place, στρατευμάτων ιππικού, which are/is δισμυριάδες μυριάδων, is not the same thing as μυριάδες μυριάδων or χιλιάδες χιλιάδων.

Why is a plural followed by a singular? Because, δισμυριάδες is a plural; but, μυριάδων is really singular conceptually. I do not fully understand why the singular ἵππικου is associated with μυριάδων<sup>22</sup>, if μυριάδων is not singular conceptually, because there is only one of them.

Our conclusion is that στρατευμάτων applies directly to δισμυριάδες and means four legions; while, ἵππικου applies directly to μυριάδων.

When we understand that units of horse might count grooms, riders, and spare horses, we begin to see how such large numbers of 2500 per legion could represent a more common cavalry unit of 300. Cavalry enter and continue battle at full gallop: we expect that after a very brief period, the cavalry must change horses. Extra grooms are necessary to prep the second horse; rub down, feed, water, and rest the first horse: third and fourth horses may be required. The number given, μυριάδων, is the full count necessary to support four fully equipped legions. Optionally, cavalry were not the only horse units in a Roman legion. The secular statistics are changing and uncertain: but, there is no reason to doubt John's report.<sup>23</sup>

Rv. 9:17 - και οὕτως εἶδον τοὺς ἵππους ἐν τῇ ἰοράσει καὶ τοὺς καθημένους ἐπ' αὐτῶν ἔχοντας θώρακας πυρίνους καὶ ἠσθινοὺς καὶ θειώδεις καὶ αἱ κεφαλαὶ τῶν ἵππων ὡς κεφαλαὶ λεόντων καὶ ἐκ τῶν στομάτων αὐτῶν ἐκπορεύεται πῦρ καὶ καπνὸς καὶ θείον

---

<sup>22</sup> Unless μυριάδων can also be some remote form of nominative singular, or is a scribal error replacing μυριάς, the nominative singular with μυριάδων.

<sup>23</sup> https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Roman\_legion
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Roman\_cavalry

Rv. 9:17 - Thus, I saw the horses in the vision. Those sitting upon them, having breastplates: fiery, blue, and sulfur. The heads of the horses [are] as heads of lions. From their mouths poured forth fire, smoke, and sulfur.

Rv. 9:18 - από των τριών πληγών τούτων απεκτάνθησαν το τρίτον των ανθρώπων εκ του πυρός και του καπνού και του θείου του εκπορευομένου εκ των στομάτων αυτών

Rv. 9:18 - From these three plagues the third of the people were killed, from the fire, smoke, and sulfur pouring forth from their mouths:

Rv. 9:19 - ηη γαρ εξουσία των ήιπων εν τω στόματι αυτών εστίν και εν ταις ουραίς αυτών ηαι γαρ ουραί αυτών ήόμοιαι όφεσιν έχουσαι κεφαλάς και εν αυταίς αδικούσιν

Rv. 9:19 - for, the authority of the horses is in their mouths and in their tails: for, their tails [are] like snakes having heads. With these they harm.

The Israelites/Jews had mental scorpion weapons and other representations of reality. Perhaps this was wishful thinking, flowing from their madness: in any case, their wounds were not terminal and recovery took place in five months. The Romans had real scorpion like weapons<sup>24</sup> that delivered lethal blows: some of these fired from the fore

---

<sup>24</sup> Many of these weapons had a real, scorpion like kick, which earned them the name and reputation of scorpions: their shape didn't hurt the name either.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Scorpio\_\(weapon\)) position (mouths), and others from the aft position (tails). The Romans also had real horses: whereas, the Israelites/Jews appear to have imaginary horses, or donkeys, or something else that also resembled grasshoppers.

Rv. 9:20 - και ηοι λοιποί των ανθρώπων ηοι ουκ απεκτάνθησαν εν ταις πληγαίς ταύταις ου μετενόησαν εκ των έργων των χειρών αυτών ήίνα μη προσκυνήσουσιν τα δαιμόνια και τα είδωλα τα χρυσά και τα αργυρά και τα χαλκά και τα λίθινα και τα ξύλινα ήά ούτε βλέπειν δύνανται ούτε ακούειν ούτε περιπατείν

Rv. 9:20 - The rest of the people, who were not killed in these plagues, neither repented of the works of their hands, so that they will not prostrate to the demons: the gold, silver, brass, stone and wood idols, which neither [have] power to look, nor to hear, nor to walk around.

---

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Torsion\_siege\_engine

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Onager\_\(weapon\))

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ballista>

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Polybolos>

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Oxybeles>

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Gastrophetes>

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Catapult>

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Mounted\_archery#:~:text=Horse%20archery%20first%20developed%20during,of%20the%20early%20Iranian%20peoples.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Early\_thermal\_weapons

Rv. 9:21 - και ου μετενόησαν εκ των φόνων αυτών ούτε εκ των φαρμάκων αυτών ούτε εκ της πορνείας αυτών ούτε εκ των κλεμμάτων αυτών

Rv. 9:21 - They repented not of their murders, their sorceries, their fornication, nor their thefts.

The Sixth Trumpet speaks of releasing four messengers (angels?), and Vespasian does come with four legions to crush the Jewish rebellion, which thus far has resisted Roman authority. Again, both Josephus and John emphasize that about one-third of the population will be annihilated: we ought not see this as one-third plus one-third plus one-third, but rather as one-third overall.

If the armies were to be numbered at, 200,000,000, this is absurdly excessive: even out of a world population of eight billion. 200,000 would be a more reasonable size. Possible causes of John's apparent exaggeration would necessarily be found in: textual error, could include invisible angelic/demonic armies, world population could be intended. This is why we believe that John is really writing about twenty-thousand personnel of infantry units, and ten-thousand-member horse units, both horses and people.

John writes of repentance, which would seem to be an idea foreign to Josephus, except as he applies it to the Idumeans. Repentance reinforces the idea that this is basically about Christ vs. anti-Christ. The very pro-Roman, Herod Agrippa II, evidently fled the war soon after Israelite/Jewish factions took Jerusalem. Later, some Idumeans<sup>25</sup> were

---

<sup>25</sup> Clearly the Idumeans are not a homogenous group. The Herodians were strongly allied with the Romans. Some others of the Idumeans are tricked into entering the war at Jerusalem, only to discover that the Romans were still there: after a fairly heavy death toll, they evidently disengaged and returned to Idumea.<sup>26</sup>

Revelation 10

Rv. 10:1 - και είδον άλλον άγγελον ισχυρόν καταβαίνοντα εκ του ουρανού περιβεβλημένον νεφέλην και ηη ίρις επί την κεφαλήν αυτού και το πρόσωπον αυτού ηως ηο ήλιος και ηοι πόδες αυτού ηως στύλοι πυρός

Rv. 10:1 - I saw Another Mighty Messenger descending from the heaven having been wrapped [in] a cloud. An [~~the~~] iris [is] upon His head. His face [is] as the sun. His feet [are] as pillars of fire:

This is Jesus, now emerging victorious over anti-Christ's of every ethnicity and nation. He is wearing the rainbow on His head (ίρις | iris), which is the promise of God to Noah.

Rv. 10:2 - και έχων εν τη χειρί αυτού βιβλαρίδιον ηνεωγμένον και έθηκεν τον πόδα αυτού τον δεξιόν επί της θαλάσσης τον δε ευώνυμον επί της γης loyal Jews, sympathetic with some of the other Israelite/Jewish factions in Jerusalem: possibly most of the bulk of 20,000 Idumeans, 8,400 Zealots, and thousands of Sicarii were killed. Still other Idumeans are only loyal to Idumea.

---

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/First\_Jewish%E2%80%93Roman\_War

<sup>26</sup> https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/First\_Jewish%E2%80%93Roman\_War

Rv. 10:2 - having in His hand a booklet having been opened. He put his right foot upon the sea; but, the left upon the land (της γης, Ha' Aretz).

His feet are on sea and land, not on land only: He rules the whole world, not parts and pieces of it.

Rv. 10:3 - και έκραξεν φωνή μεγάλη ήώσπερ λέων μυκάται και ήότε έκραξεν ελάλησαν και ηεπτά βρονταί τας ηεαυτών φωνάς

Rv. 10:3 - He cried out with a great voice as when a lion roars. When He cried out, The Seven Thunders spoke [in] their own voices.

“The Lion has roared, who will not fear? The LORD God has spoken, who can but prophesy?” — Amos 3:8

Rv. 10:4 - και ήότε ελάλησαν και ηεπτά βρονταί ήμελλον γράφειν και ήκουσα φωνήν εκ του ουρανού λέγουσαν σφράγισον ήά ελάλησαν και ηεπτά βρονταί και μη αυτά γράψης

Rv. 10:4 - When The Seven Thunders spoke, I was about to write. I heard a voice from the heaven saying, “Seal what The Seven Thunders spoke. You should not write them.”

Rv. 10:5 - και ηο άγγελος ηον είδον ηεστώτα επί της θαλάσσης και επί της γης ήρεν την χείρα αυτου την δεξιάν εις τον ουρανόν

Rv. 10:5 - The Messenger which I saw having stood upon the sea and upon the land (της γης, Ha' Aretz), raised his right hand to the heaven.

Daniel 12:7

Rv. 10:6 - και ὠμοσεν ἐν τῷ ζῶντι εἰς τοὺς αἰῶνας τῶν αἰώνων ἥος ἐκτίσεν τὸν οὐρανὸν καὶ τὰ ἐν αὐτῷ καὶ τὴν γῆν καὶ τὰ ἐν αὐτῇ †καὶ τὴν θάλασσαν καὶ τὰ ἐν αὐτῇ<sup>27</sup> ἵνα χρόνος οὐκέτι ἔσται

Rv. 10:6 - He vowed to the One Living into the ages of the ages, Who, created the heaven and the [things] in it; the land (τὴν γῆν, Ha' Aretz) and the [things] in her; the sea and the [things] in her; that time will be no more.

The Son vowed to the Father. The Kingdom, which the Father has ordained, will be established, now.

Rv. 10:7 - ἀλλ' ἐν ταῖς ἡμέραις τῆς φωνῆς τοῦ ἑβδόμου ἀγγέλου ἦν μέλλη σαλπίζειν καὶ ἐτελέσθη τὸ μυστήριον τοῦ θεοῦ ἥως εὐηγγέλισεν τοὺς ἑαυτοῦ δούλους τοὺς προφῆτας

Rv. 10:7 - But, in the days of the voice of the seventh messenger, whenever he is about to trumpet. The mystery of God is finished, as He proclaimed to His own servants the prophets.

In what sense is the mystery of God finished? Is it finished simply because He said so? Or, is He introducing the singular finishing event with a great deal of fanfare, including all the rest of Chapter 10, and the opening events of Chapter 11.

---

<sup>27</sup> The uncertainty brackets were removed because confirmation was found at RP, SBL & TH.

“The Kingdom, which the Father has ordained, will be established, now. ... The mystery of God is finished, as He proclaimed to His own servants the prophets.”

We ought not take these two sentences lightly. This emphasizes that we are not mainly concerned with a fleshly battle between Rome and rioting people who dwell in Ha’Aretz. This is very difficult for us to grasp: because, our human minds are naturally drawn to the fact of great human suffering. However, this is not about the wars of the flesh: this is all about the Spiritual war for the hearts and souls, the human spirits of people. As we discovered with the 144,000; this is the war between Christ and anti-Christ. Christ declares that the prophetic message of the Old Testament is complete, with the destruction of the earthly Temple, and the revelation of the Great Corner Stone and ground breaking of the heavenly Temple. Yes, this is just the beginning of the heavenly Temple: for, it will be built, one human brick at a time, down through the remainder of this age. The million or more human bricks already in place are still in the first floor at ground level. By the return of Christ, there will be billions more. Yet, we can easily read right past this astonishing, colossal, and prodigious event. We should be so overwhelmed by Revelation 11:19 that we are compelled to pause and give thanks to the Father, Son, and Spirit for their great and glorious victory of Christ over anti-Christ.

Rv. 10:8 - και η φωνή ην ήκουσα εκ του ουρανού πάλιν λαλούσαν μετ εμού και λέγουσαν ήπαγε λάβε το βιβλίον το ηνεωγμένον εν τη χειρί του αγγέλου του ηεστώτος επί της θαλάσσης και επί της γης

Rv. 10:8 - The voice which I heard from the heaven, is talking with me again, saying, “Go! Take the book having been opened in the hand of

The Messenger having stood upon the sea and upon the land (της γης, Ha' Aretz).”

John is to receive part of the Word and words of God, part of the Bible. Does he mean the Gospel of John, his three letters, as well as Revelation? He doesn't say. Even so, here is another indication of the direct Divine involvement in the writing of Scripture without dictation: John will find it necessary to eat and digest, before he interprets. So also, must we eat and digest, before we can learn from the Holy Spirit.

Rv. 10:9 - και απήλθα προς τον άγγελον λέγων αυτώ δούναί μοι το βιβλαρίδιον και λέγει μοι λάβε και κατάφαγε αυτό και πικρανει σου την κοιλίαν αλλ εν τω στόματι σου έσται γλυκύ ηως μέλι

Rv. 10:9 - I came to The Messenger telling Him to give me the booklet. He tells me, “Take and devour it. It will sour your belly; but, in your mouth it will be sweet as honey.”

Rv. 10:10 - και έλαβον το βιβλαρίδιον εκ της χειρός του αγγέλου και κατέφαγον αυτό και ην εν τω στόματι μου ηως μέλι γλυκύ και ήότε έφαγον αυτό επικράνθη ηη κοιλία μου

Rv. 10:10 - I took the booklet from the hand of The Messenger. I devoured it. It is now in my mouth as honey sweet. When I ate it, my belly was soured.

The Bible was sweet to John's taste: but it “set fire” to his belly. If your Bible studies do not result in acid stomach pain, they have not proceeded far enough. If there is no “fire” in your belly, don't preach.

Rv. 10:11 - και λέγουσιν' μοι δει σε πάλιν προφητεύσαι επί λαοίς και έθνεσιν και γλώσσαις και βασιλεύσιν πολλοίς

Rv. 10:11 - They tell me, "It is bound for you to prophesy again about many peoples, nations, languages, and kings."

This is Jesus, Another Messenger, not one of the original Seven. Chapter 10 seems to introduce an entirely new idea: perhaps suggesting that the entire force of Rome and the madness of Israelite factions are opposed by One thing: The Word of God, giving the words of God to a single evangelist. Christ and anti-Christ are the true adversaries in this contest.

The Seven Thunders are not disclosed, indicating that there are new mysteries that lie ahead. However, The Seventh Trumpet will conclude the mysteries of the (Old Testament?) prophets. John is told that he must prophesy again. Is this telling us plainly that whatever follows The Seventh Trumpet will be prophetic: fulfilled after John has died?

Revelation 11

Rv. 11:1 - και εδόθη μοι κάλαμος ήμοιος ήράβδω λέγων έγειρε και μέτρησον τον ναόν του θεού και το θυσιαστήριον και τους προσκυνούντας εν αυτώ

Rv. 11:1 - A staff like reed was given to me, saying, "Get up. Measure the Temple of God; the altar; and those prostrating in her.

Rv. 11:2 - και την αυλήν την έξωθεν του ναού έκβαλε έξωθεν και μη αυτήν μετρήσης ήότι εδόθη τοις έθνεσιν και την πόλιν την ήαγίαν πατήσουσιν μήνας τεσσεράκοντα [και] δύο

Rv. 11:2 - Throw out [the] external court, external to the temple. You should not measure it; since, it was given to the nations. They will tread the holy city forty-two months (three and a half years).

This idea of a new prophetic instruction from God continues in Chapter 11 where John measures Herod's Temple and finds it spiritually insufficient: but this will not become clear until we see the measurements of The Heavenly Temple for comparison. What we do see clearly is that measurement means moral evaluation, the precedent to judgment. The Temple is being "weighed in the balances and found wanting" (Daniel 5:27).

Rv. 11:3 - και δώσω τοις δυσίν μάρτυσιν μου και προφητεύσουσιν ημέρας χιλίας διακοσίας ηεξήκοντα περιβεβλημένους σάκκους

Rv. 11:3 - I will give My two witnesses. They will prophesy a thousand two hundred sixty days (three and a half years), having been wrapped in sackcloths.

Rv. 11:4 - ουτοι εισιν ηαι δύο ελαίαι και ηαι δύο λυχνίαι ηαι<sup>28</sup> ενώπιον του κυρίου της γης εστώτες

Rv. 11:4 - These are the two olive trees; the two lampstands; those having stood before the Lord of the land (της γης, Ha' Aretz).

---

<sup>28</sup> The uncertainty brackets were removed because confirmation was found at RP, SBL & TH.

Two olive trees or two lampstands join with John in the resistance of evil: but, no one has ever identified these two definitively. Exactly what these things have to do with the Second Woe, the Sixth Trumpet is difficult to know: they do offer words of encouragement in the midst of a very bleak landscape. Micah and Amos both suffered martyrdom; but, both are thought to have been buried: how soon after their deaths, we do not know. —

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Lives\_of\_the\_Prophets#:~:text=Micah%3A%20said%20to%20be%20of,laid%20in%20his%20birth%2Dland.

We have no idea who these olive tree, lampstand, witnesses are (1 Kings 6:32; Zechariah 4:3, 6, 11-14). Zechariah suggests that these are two supernatural messengers that serve at the pleasure of the Holy Spirit. These are symbolized in the Oracle, either by the angels carved on the Ark, or by the Royal Doors enclosing the Ark, or by doorposts holding the veil. These are draped or wrapped in sackcloth because of grief over the war in progress.

In any case, every single confession and prayer is given at the Brazen Altar as a burn offering; these confessions and prayers are then carried, past the carved doorposts, past the Royal Doors, before the angels carved on the Ark, into the golden altar, and before the Mercy Seat on the Ark, where every confession and prayer was offered up to God. Symbolically, the carved doorposts, the carved doors, and the carved angels heard every confession and prayer. In all reality, the two supernatural messengers, the realities behind these symbols, also heard every confession and prayer. Humans could and did destroy the symbols: but they could not, and did not destroy the supernatural realities or limit their powers. Zechariah 4 tells us exactly what or who these messengers are: or does it?

“The messenger that talked with me came again, and awakened me, as a man that is awakened out of his sleep. He said to me, ‘What do you see?’ I said, ‘I have looked, and behold a candlestick all of gold, with a bowl upon the top of it, and Seven lamps on it, and Seven pipes to the Seven lamps, which are upon the top of it; two olive trees by it, one on the right side of the bowl, and the other on the left side of it.’

“So, I asked and spoke to the messenger that talked with me, saying, ‘What are these, my lord?’ Then the messenger that talked with me answered and said to me, ‘Don’t you know what these are?’ And I said, ‘No, my lord’. Then he answered and spoke to me, saying, ‘This is the Word of the LORD to Zerubbabel, saying, “Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit”, says the LORD of Hosts. Who are you, O great mountain? Before Zerubbabel you will become a plain: and he will bring forth the headstone thereof with shouting, crying, “Grace, grace unto it” ’.

“Moreover, the Word of the LORD came unto me, saying, ‘The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also finish it; and you will know that the LORD of Hosts has sent Me to you: for, who has despised the day of small things? For, they will rejoice, and will see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel with those Seven; they are the eyes of the LORD, which run to and fro through the whole land (τὴν γῆν, Ha’Aretz).

“Then I asked, and said to him, ‘What are these two olive trees upon the right side of the candlestick and upon the left side thereof?’ I asked again, and said unto him, ‘What are these two olive branches which through the two golden pipes empty the golden oil out of themselves?’

“He answered me and said, ‘Don’t you know what these are?’ And I said, ‘No, my lord.’ Then he said, ‘These are the two anointed ones, that stand by the LORD of the whole earth.” — Zechariah 4

Jesus is often accompanied by heavenly messengers: Genesis 18:2; Matthew 17:3; Mark 9:4. We do not know definitively, who these two messengers are: but, the text makes very clear exactly what their message is.

Rv. 11:5 - και ει τις αυτους θέλει αδικήσαι πυρ εκπορεύεται εκ του στόματος αυτών και κατεσθίει τους εχθρούς αυτών και ει τις θελήση αυτους αδικήσαι ηούτως δει αυτόν αποκτανθήναι

Rv. 11:5 - If any [one] wishes to harm them, fire pours forth from their mouths. It devours their adversaries. If any [one] would wish to harm them, thus they are bound to be killed.

Rv. 11:6 - ηούτοι έχουσιν την εξουσίαν κλείσαι τον ουρανόν ήίνα μη ηυετός βρέχη τας ηημέρας της προφητείας αυτών και εξουσίαν έχουσιν επί των ηυδάτων στρέφειν αυτά εις ηαίμα και πατάξει την γην εν πάση πληγή ηοσάκις εάν θελήσωσιν

Rv. 11:6 - These have the authority to lock the heaven, so that moisture could not fall [in] the days of their prophecies. They have authority over the waters, to turn them into blood; to strike the land (την γην, Ha' Aretz) with every plague, as often as, [if] they would wish.

Rv. 11:7 - και ήόταν τελέσωσιν την μαρτυρίαν αυτών το θηρίον το αναβαίνον εκ της αβύσσου ποιήσει μετ αυτών πόλεμον και νικήσει αυτους και αποκτενει αυτους

Rv. 11:7 - Whenever they would finish their testimony, Therion Zero, coming up from the Abyss, will wage war with them; will overcome them; and will kill them.

A supernatural beast, which we have named Therion Zero did kill them, which we believe to be Satan himself: Satan does kill them.

Here, the Spiritual war between Christ and anti-Christ, between Jesus, and Satan with his followers has reached its maximum intensity: it appears as if Jesus has lost. The deaths of the two witnesses echoes the Crucifixion, almost exactly.

Rv. 11:8 - και το πτώμα αυτών επί της πλατείας της πόλεως της μεγάλης ήτις καλείται πνευματικώς σόδομα και αίγυπτος ή όπου και ho κύριος αυτών εσταυρώθη

Rv. 11:8 - Their fallen [bodies] [will lie], on the plateau of the great city, which is called spiritually, Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified.

We think it reprehensible to think of dead bodies lying in the street: but, these supernatural bodies are not normally visible. Their symbols are very visible: but nobody pays much attention when two wooden objects are left lying on the ground. Israelite/Jewish factions are now fighting inside the temple: they will accidentally or deliberately set the Temple on fire and burn it down. It seems that the Romans were commanded not to touch the Temple, they would if they could, use it for the worship of Caesar and Zeus: the Romans are falsely accused of the Temple's destruction.

Sodom and Egypt are most likely pejorative terms for Israel: condemning Israelite licentiousness and idolatry. The former is not openly known. The latter is apparent: for, clay idols by the thousands litter nearly every archaeological space. Therefore, Israelite claims of monotheism are duplicitous at best: for, Israelites only became monotheistic when they were forced into a corner, when it became advantageous for them to do so.

This city is very clearly and specifically identified as Jerusalem.

Rv. 11:9 - και βλέπουσιν εκ των λαών και φυλών και γλωσσών και εθνών το πτώμα αυτών ημέρας τρεις και ήμισυ και τα πτώματα αυτών ουκ αφίουσιν τεθήναι εις μνήμα

Rv. 11:9 - Those from the peoples, tribes, tongues, and nations see their fallen [bodies] three and a half days. They do not allow their fallen [bodies] to be put in a grave.

Nobody gives much attention to fallen wooden trash in a war, do they? These bodies may not even have been recognizable.

Rv. 11:10 - και ηοι κατοικούντες επί της γης χαίρουσιν επ αυτοίς και ευφραίνονται και δώρα πέμπουσιν αλλήλοις ήότι ήούτοι ηοι δύο προφήται εβασάνισαν τους κατοικούντας επί της γης

Rv. 11:10 - Those inhabiting [~~εθνη~~] the land (της γης, Ha' Aretz) rejoice over them. They are gladdened. They will send gifts to each other; since, these two prophets afflicted those inhabiting [~~εθνη~~] the land (της γης, Ha' Aretz).

We do not understand why the destruction of the Temple was cause for celebration. Were the Israelites/Jews that far gone in idolatry and lasciviousness?

Rv. 11:11 - και μετά τας<sup>29</sup> τρεις ημέρας και ήμισυ πνεύμα ζωής εκ του θεού εισήλθεν [εν] αυτοίς και έστησαν επί τους πόδας αυτών και φόβος μέγας επέπεσεν επί τους θεωρούντας αυτούς

Rv. 11:11 - With the three and a half days, a spirit of life from God entered into them. They stood upon their feet. Great fear fell upon those watching them.

The realities of the two witnesses are brought back to life. Does this mean that the symbols were also resurrected? Since a symbol is activated by its reality, the resurrected realities may have simply picked up their fallen symbols and ascended with them. Those nearby were terrified to see two wooden objects stand.

Rv. 11:12 - και ήκουσαν φωνής μεγάλης εκ του ουρανού λεγούσης αυτοίς ανάβατε ήώδε και ανέβησαν εις τον ουρανόν εν τη νεφέλη και εθεώρησαν αυτούς ηοι εχθροί αυτών

Rv. 11:12 - They heard a great voice from the heaven saying to them, “Come up here.” They ascended into the heaven in the cloud. Their enemies pondered over them.

---

<sup>29</sup> The uncertainty brackets were removed because confirmation was found at RP, SBL & TH.

They ascend after three and a half days (Matthew 27:63; Mark 13:2; Luke 24:46; John 2:19-21). Evidently, Jesus' words have more than one adumbration. In a few verses we will see that the Ark is already in Heaven. The Ark disappeared from Jerusalem around 586 BC: the Second Temple never had an Ark... not the real one.

John constructs a sizable chiasm: A. the victory of Christ's 144,000 evangelists over anti-Christ's, or false Judaism; B. the anti-Christ's<sup>30</sup>, or Tares as the locust plague; C. the imperialists, or Roman legions; D. Christ's Victory partially carried out in John's Prophetic Ministry; E. Christ's Witnesses, the Earthly Temple Destroyed; E. The Heavenly Temple Opened (chapter 4 continued); D. Eve's Victory over Satan; C. the imperialists, or Roman legions; B. the anti-Christ's, or Tares as the imitation Lamb; A. the victory of Christ's 144,000 evangelists over anti-Christ's, or false Judaism.

Did you see it?

This is the absolute pinnacle of Chapters 8 through 14. This chiasm points directly at it. Yet, we can easily read past these verses and miss the whole point.

This is the proof for which we have been looking.

---

<sup>30</sup> All having heard the Gospel of Jesus, the Christ of Nazareth: that He is God, Who added to Himself human flesh in His incarnation, that He endured Crucifixion because He loved His Father as He loved us, that He was resurrected from the dead for the salvation of all mankind. He trampled down death by death. Anti-Christ's are all those of any and every ethnicity, who have heard this Good News and of their own will, decided to reject this Good News; and as a result, fight against it.

“Their fallen [bodies] [will lie], on the plateau of the great city, which is called spiritually, Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified.” — Revelation 11:8

There is only one temple to destroy in Jerusalem, Herod’s Temple, the so-called Second Temple. Here is absolute proof that refutes our opposite hypothesis, and sustains our positive hypothesis: it is not often that one finds such a proof with better than 99.99% probability. Both John, in Chapters 8 through 14, and Josephus were writing about the First Jewish-Roman war: but for John, this is the war between Christ and anti-Christ.

Do you see it now?

“With the three and a half days, a spirit of life from God entered into them. They stood upon their feet. Great fear fell upon those watching them. They heard a great voice from the heaven saying to them, “Come up here.” They ascended into the heaven in the cloud.” — Revelation 11:11-12

At Passover (Pascha, Pesach), the blood of the Innocent Lamb was painted on both posts and the header or lintel of the door. We believe that this prefigures the present picture: the header or lintel is the symbol of Christ, the two posts are symbols of the two witnesses.

The Passover (Pascha, Pesach), the death of the Innocent Lamb parallels the Crucifixion of Jesus. Pentecost, with the giving of the Law parallels the coronation of Jesus and the sending of the Spirit (Acts 2). The very next step is entering into the promised land. Only Joshua and Caleb obeyed and respected this promise; the rest wandered in the wilderness for forty years; the elder, unbelieving generation died; the younger, believing generation crossed the Jordan at flood stage with dry feet by a miracle.

This is similar to crossing the Jordan: the whole of the promised land (Ha' Aretz) has just left earth and moved to heaven. The carved pillars or doorposts, and the doors of the Oracle are open and the Ark can be seen. Anti-Christ's are left behind. Christ's Ekklesiae will cross a new Jordan, the gateway of death before they can enter the new promised land.

Now you see it!

“The Lord is my shepherd; I will not want. He makes me to lie down in green pastures. He leads me beside the still waters. He restores my soul. He leads me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Yes, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for You are with me; Your rod and Your staff comfort me. You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies: You anoint my head with oil; my cup runs over. Surely goodness and mercy will follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.” —
Psalm 23 (22 LXX)

The twenty third Psalm is made reality before my very eyes. Christ has gone through the valley before me. The Ark was already there, before Him to receive Him (Revelation 4 and 5). The carved pillars or doorposts, and the Royal Doors of the Oracle are now in place; open; ready to receive and welcome those crossing the Valley of Death, symbolized by the Jordan; by the power of the Spirit, they believe.

Jesus had ascended into heaven. Now His bride's home is prepared. The Heavenly gates are open to receive her. Construction of the Heavenly Temple has begun: it will remain under construction until the very last human stone is put in place (Ephesians 2:20-22; 1 Peter 2:5).

This parallels 1 Kings 6 and 7. This is not the first appearing of the Ark in Revelation: for, we have seen the Ark every time we have seen the One Sitting upon the Throne: for, His Throne is the Mercy Seat, which is the lid of the Ark.

Rv. 11:13 - και εν εκείνη τη ήώρα εγένετο σεισμός μέγας και το δέκατον της πόλεως έπεσεν και απεκτάνθησαν εν τω σεισμώ ονόματα ανθρωπων χιλιάδες ηεπτά και ηοι λοιποί έμφοβοι εγένοντο και έδωκαν δόξαν τω θεώ του ουρανού

Rv. 11:13 - In that hour, a great shaking was brought forth. The tenth of the city fell. Seven thousand notable people were killed in the shaking. The rest came forth terrified. They gave glory to the God of heaven.

Evidently, some Christian believers are still alive in earthly Jerusalem: or some of the anti-Christ's have just repented at the spectacle of seeing the heavenly Temple opened. This is pure woe for Israel/Judah. The Temple has been destroyed. But, this is pure joy for those ascending Jacob's Ladder into Paradise.

Rv. 11:14 - ηη ουαί ηη δευτέρα απήλθεν ιδού ηη ουαί ηη τρίτη έρχεται ταχύ

Rv. 11:14 - The Second Woe passed away. Look! The Third Woe comes quickly!

The Second Woe ends with the destruction of Jerusalem.

Rv. 11:15 - και ho hēβδομος ἄγγελος εσάλπισεν και εγένοντο φωναί μεγάλαι εν τω ουρανῶ λέγοντες εγένετο η βασιλεία του κόσμου του κυρίου ημών και του χριστού αυτού και βασιλεύσει εις τους αιώνας των αιώνων

Rv. 11:15 - The Seventh messenger trumpeted. Great voices were brought forth in the heaven, singing, “The kingdom of the cosmos, of our Lord, and of His Christ, was brought forth. He will reign into the ages of the ages.

The Third Woe is a declarative statement of Christ’s dominance. “The stone which the builders rejected has been made the head stone of the corner” (Psalms 118:22/117 LXX; Matthew 21:42; Mark 12:10; Luke 20:17; Acts 4:11; 1 Peter 2:7). It is also The Seventh Trumpet, and the E level of John’s gigantic chiasm.

The significance of the earthly Temple’s destruction and the Heavenly Temple’s unveiling, discloses the reign of Christ to the earth. What was made clear to us in Revelation 5, is now declared on earth.

Rv. 11:16 - και hoi είκοσι τέσσαρες πρεσβύτεροι hoi<sup>31</sup> ενῶπιον του θεού καθήμενοι επί τους θρόνους αυτών έπεσαν επί τα πρόσωπα αυτών και προσεκύνησαν τω θεῶ

---

<sup>31</sup> The uncertainty brackets were removed because confirmation was found at RP, SBL & TH.

Rv. 11:16 - The twenty-four presbyters, [~~these~~] sitting upon their thrones before [~~the~~] God, fell down upon their faces. They prostrated before [~~the~~] God,

Rv. 11:17 - λέγοντες ευχαριστούμεν' σοι κύριε ho θεός ho παντοκράτωρ ho ων και ho ην hότι είληφας την δύναμιν' σου την μεγάλην και εβασίλευσας

Rv. 11:17 - singing, “We thank You, Lord, [~~the~~] God, [~~the~~] Almighty; the One Being; the Now Is: since, You have received Your great power. You reigned.

Rv. 11:18 - και τα έθνη ωργίσθησαν και ήλθεν η οργή σου και ho καιρός των νεκρών κριθήναι και δούναι τον μισθόν τοις δούλοις σου τοις προφήταις και τοις αγίοις και τοις φοβουμένοις το όνομα' σου τους μικρούς και τους μεγάλους και διαφθείραι τους διαφθείροντας την γην

Rv. 11:18 - The nations were enraged. [But], Your wrath came: the time of the dead to be judged; to give wages to Your servants: the prophets; the saints; those fearing Your name; [both] the small and the great; and to destroy those destroying the land (την γην, Ha' Aretz).

Psalm 2 is invoked again: always against Israel/Judah.

They are accused of destroying the land, not the earth: this is not about the destruction of a green planet, or conservation. This is about disrespect to the King of kings, and Lord of lords: having denied Him, He now denies them. In their madness, they are no match for the Romans, and Jesus does not protect them: since, they denied Him. This denial is the essence of anti-Christ.

Rv. 11:19 - και ηνοίγη ho ναός του θεού ho εν τω ουρανώ και ώφθη ηη κιβωτός της διαθήκης αυτού εν τω ναώ αυτού και εγένοντο αστραπαί και φωναί και βρονταί και σεισμός και χάλαζα μεγάλη

Rv. 11:19 - The Temple of [the] God, in heaven was opened. The Ark of His Covenant was seen in His Temple. Beams of light, sounds, thunders, shaking, and great hail were brought forth.

In what sense, can we say that The Seventh Trumpet, since we now know, definitively, that it is about the First Jewish-Roman War, ushers in the Kingdom of God: unless, of course, the destruction of Israel somehow reveals Christianity to the world? Josephus notes similar events: lightning, thunder, earthquake, and hail. Walls that had resisted the Roman onslaught, suddenly fell down, with no identified cause: just as was the case at Jericho.

As before, in similar situations, the appropriate celebratory hymnology breaks forth. There is nothing to explain in these celebratory situations: enter into them, rejoice with them, become part of them, sing them with all your might.

About that highly improbable 0.01%: sometime in the future, somebody manages to build or repurpose a Third Temple on earthly Zion. The two witnesses are Christ's faithful Israelites, aka OT Saints, and Christ's faithful Gentiles, aka NT Saints. These are silenced by the political contrivance of anti-Christ. As absurd as this sounds, today, the witness of Christ's faithful Israelites seems nearly gone. Wicked contrivances such as Wellhausen, aka the Documentary Hypothesis, aka JEDP openly deny the historicity of anything prior to the Divided Kingdom (930 BC). All of Genesis is denied as mythology; as also are: Moses, Samuel, David, and Solomon. According to the Wellhausen lie, the OT is a fable concocted around 550 BC to elevate an unknown Canaanite tribe and boost it into world prominence: thus justifying its establishment as a real “kingdom” in cis-Jordan. This may sound laughable, but everywhere a false-Christianity, very judgmental, very Judaizing (Acts 15) is being touted in every form of news; everywhere, resentment is rising up against it: but, True Christianity is everywhere tarred with this brush of false Christianity... there will be great joy everywhere when all the churches are gone and Christianity is illegal. So effective is the deception of anti-Christis who replace the healing of wounded hearts with endless rules and regulations. This, The Wonderful Wizard of Oz, deception<sup>32</sup> will trick everyone with their eyes closed, or who never look behind the curtain in the corner. Anti-Christis are still with us in greater numbers than ever.

Revelation 12

The Third Woe, The Seventh Trumpet, and the E level of John’s gigantic chiasm continues in a second half. We must now descend from the heavenly paradise itself. The second half of the D level is the victory of Eve over Satan in the birth of Jesus to the Virgin, Mary. We had noted previously that we had observed a second collage: this is it. Various aspects of the victory of Christ in the Incarnation, and in the Virgin Birth: resemble Eve, Mary, the Church, and others of the great vital women of Christian history. All of these women play a part in Eve’s crushing of Satan’s head. In a very real sense this is the greatest tribute to women and mothers ever made. Women, more modestly and quietly, are often far more important than men in the Bible.

---

<sup>32</sup> https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The\_Wonderful\_Wizard\_of\_Oz

Rv. 12:1 - και σημείον μέγα ώφθη εν τω ουρανώ γυνή περιβεβλημένη τον ήλιον και ηη σελήνη ηυποκάτω των ποδών αυτής και επί της κεφαλής αυτής στέφανος αστέρων δώδεκα

Rv. 12:1 - A great sign was seen in the heaven, a woman having been wrapped with the sun; the moon beneath her feet; upon her head, a wreath of twelve stars;

This is a picture of Israel's wives: principally, Rachael: again taken from Joseph's dream.

Rv. 12:2 - και εν γαστρί έχουσα και κράζει ωδίνουσα και βασανιζομένη τεκείν

Rv. 12:2 - having in [her] belly; she cries out, straining; travailing to give birth.

Rachael died in the birth of Benjamin, a type of Christ.

Rv. 12:3 - και ώφθη άλλο σημείον εν τω ουρανώ και ιδού δράκων μέγας πυρρός έχων κεφαλάς ηεπτά και κέρατα δέκα και επί τας κεφαλάς αυτού ηεπτά διαδήματα

Rv. 12:3 - Also [was] seen, another sign in the heaven. Look! A great fiery Dragon, having seven heads and ten horns; upon its heads, seven diadems.

Rv. 12:4 - και ηη ουρά αυτού σύρει το τρίτον των αστέρων του ουρανού και έβαλεν αυτούς εις την γην και ηο δράκων ήεστηκεν ενώπιον της γυναικός της μελλούσης τεκείν hina hótan tékhi to téknon autής καταφάγη

Rv. 12:4 - Its tail drags away the third of the stars of the heaven. It threw them into the land (την γην, Ha'Aretz). The Dragon now stands before the woman waiting to give birth in order that whenever she would give birth to her child, it could devour [Him].

Satan attacks Israel's wives' children and continuing the theme of the death of the third, drags many stars to death: from Joseph's dream, we realize that these stars are symbolic of Israelite as well as Ekklesiae leadership.

The woman waiting to give birth is Mary, the child is Jesus: note that the date is now back to 6/4 BC. Satan himself is chief of the anti-Christ: however, he appears to be leading Romans in this instance. Rome must ultimately be numbered among the anti-Christ.

Rv. 12:5 - και έτεκεν ηυιόν άρσεν ηος μέλλει ποιμαίνειν πάντα τα έθνη εν ηράβδω σιδηρά και ηηπάσθη το τέκνον αυτής προς τον θεόν και προς τον θρόνον αυτού

Rv. 12:5 - She gave birth to a son, a male, who is about to shepherd all the nations with an iron rod. Her child was raptured [away] toward God, and toward His throne.

Another reference to Psalm 2 is made.

This is the birth of Jesus to Mary: but by seeing this as a collage, none of the other historic impacts are lost, none of these precious women are denigrated. All remain visible in the collage picture: the mind is free to add others. The birth of Jesus completes Eve's promised victory over Satan.

Rv. 12:6 - και η γυνή έφυγεν εις την έρημον όπου έχει εκεί τόπον ητοιμασμένον από του θεού ήνα εκεί τρέφωσιν αυτήν ημέρας χιλίας διακοσίας ηξήκοντα

Rv. 12:6 - The woman fled into the desert; where she has there, a place having been prepared by God; so that, there they could feed her [for] one thousand two hundred sixty days (three and a half years).

Some believe that Mary escaped to Petra, with John. Others think Pella. We can neither confirm or deny either.

The parabolic synopsis of the Incarnation, Birth, and Ascension, with emphasis on Mary's deliverance from Dragon/Rome/Satan is stated as a consequence of the First Jewish-Roman war: it reminds us that all judgment, especially final judgment, rests on the Incarnation and Virgin birth of the Lamb. The Romans would crucify many people, as many as 500 a day, it was one form of standard Roman punishment: only one of these victims was the incarnate and sinless Son of God.

The reflection on the Second Psalm surprises us, because we are all too familiar with translation blunders: we are numbed into accepting them as if they were correct. The rod of iron applies directly to Israel, secondarily to Rome. Both Israel and Rome thought they saw final victory in the Crucifixion of Christ: instead it was and still is their final defeat and judgment.

Rv. 12:7 - και εγένετο πόλεμος εν τω ουρανώ ho μιχαήλ και hoi άγγελοι αυτού του πολεμήσαι μετά του δράκοντος και ho δράκων επολέμησεν και hoi άγγελοι αυτού

Rv. 12:7 - This brought forth war in the heaven. Michael and his messengers to [have] waged war with the Dragon. The Dragon and its messengers waged war.

Rv. 12:8 - και ουκ ίσχυσεν ουδέ τόπος ηευρέθη αυτών έτι εν τω ουρανώ

Rv. 12:8 - It was not mighty [enough]; neither was a place found for it ever again in the heaven.

Rv. 12:9 - και εβλήθη ho δράκων ho μέγας ho όφης ho αρχαίος ho καλούμενος διάβολος και ho σατανάς ho πλανών την οικουμένην hόλην εβλήθη εις την γην και hoi άγγελοι αυτού μετ αυτού εβλήθησαν

Rv. 12:9 - The great Dragon was thrown [down], the ancient serpent, the one being called Devil and Satan, the one deceiving the whole civilization was thrown down into the land (την γην, Ha' Aretz). Its messengers were thrown [down] with it.

The defeat of Dragon/Satan by Michael only seems disconnected: we expect it to relate to the Crucifixion, which was earlier. Of course, John may be using the literary device of flash backs to fill in missing information. Eve's seed does crush Satan's head. Michael may be another name for Jesus.

Rv. 12:10 - και ήκουσα φωνήν μεγάλην εν τω ουρανώ λέγουσαν άρτι εγένετο ηη σωτηρία και ηη δύναμις και ηη βασιλεία του θεού ηημών και

ἡ ἐξουσία τοῦ χριστοῦ αὐτοῦ ὅτι ἐβλήθη ὁ κατήγωρ τῶν ἀδελφῶν ἡμῶν ὁ κατηγορῶν αὐτούς ἐνώπιον τοῦ θεοῦ ἡμῶν ἡμέρας καὶ νυκτός

Rv. 12:10 - I heard a great voice in the heaven, saying, “Now [is] brought forth, the salvation, the power, the kingdom of our God, and the authority of His Christ: since, the accuser of our brothers and sisters, the one accusing them before our God, day and night, was thrown [down].

Rv. 12:11 - καὶ αὐτοὶ ἐνίκησαν αὐτόν διὰ τὸ αἷμα τοῦ ἀρνίου καὶ διὰ τὸν λόγον τῆς μαρτυρίας αὐτῶν καὶ οὐκ ἠγάπησαν τὴν ψυχὴν αὐτῶν ἄχρι θανάτου

Rv. 12:11 - They overcame it through the blood of the Lamb; through the word of their testimony. They did not love their souls until thanatos.

Rv. 12:12 - διὰ τοῦτο εὐφραίνεσθε οὐρανοὶ καὶ οἱ ἐν αὐτοῖς σκηνοῦντες οὐαὶ τὴν γῆν καὶ τὴν θάλασσαν ὅτι κατέβη ὁ διάβολος πρὸς ὑμᾶς ἔχων θυμὸν μέγαν εἰδὼς ὅτι ὀλίγον καιρὸν ἔχει

Rv. 12:12 - Through this, be glad, O heavens, and those dwelling in them! Woe to the land (τὴν γῆν, Ha’Aretz) and the sea: since, the Devil came down toward you having great rage, having known, since, it has little time.

Rv. 12:13 - καὶ ὅτε εἶδεν ὁ δράκων ὅτι ἐβλήθη εἰς τὴν γῆν ἐδίωξεν
τὴν γυναῖκα ἥτις ἔτεκεν τὸν ἄρσενα

Rv. 12:13 - When the Dragon saw, since it was thrown [down] into the land (την γην, Ha' Aretz), it pursued the woman who gave birth to the male.

Rv. 12:14 - και εδόθησαν τη γυναικί και δύο πτέρυγες του αετού του μεγάλου ήνα πέτηται εις την έρημον εις τον τόπον αυτής ή όπου τρέφεται εκεί καιρόν και καιρούς και ήμισυ καιρού από προσώπου του όφεως

Rv. 12:14 - The two wings of the Great Eagle were given to the woman, so that she could soar into her place into the desert, where she is fed there, a time, times, and a half time (three and a half years), [away] from the serpent's face.

Again, flight to Petra is one possibility. “According to fourth-century church fathers Eusebius and Epiphanius of Salamis, Jerusalem's Christians fled to Pella, which is in the opposite direction, before the beginning of the war.”<sup>33</sup>

This may be another reference to Daniel 12:7. What we often take for granted is that, “times”, is a plural, meaning two. Both Hebrew and Greek allow for a rare form, called a dual, to exist. A dual is a special plural form meaning exactly two. John may have intended other duals: which, unfortunately, we have failed to spot. All of Daniel 12 is instructive for our understanding of Revelation 12.

---

33 https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/First\_Jewish%E2%80%93Roman\_War#cite\_note-33

“And at that time Michael will stand up, the great prince who stands for the children of your people: and there will be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time your people will be delivered, every one that will be found written in the book. And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth will awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. And they that be wise will shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever.

“But you, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many will run to and fro, and knowledge will be increased.

“Then I Daniel looked, and, behold, there stood another two (the two witnesses), the one on this side of the bank of the river, and the other on that side of the bank of the river. And one said to the man clothed in linen (Jesus), which was upon the waters of the river, How long will it be to the end of these wonders? And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and swore by Him Who lives forever that it will be for a time, times, and an half (three and a half years); and when he will have accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things will be finished.

“And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my Lord, what will be the end of these things?

“And he said, Go your way, Daniel: for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end. Many will be purified, and made white, and tried; but the wicked will do wickedly: and none of the wicked will understand; but the wise will understand. And from the time that the daily sacrifice will be taken away, and the abomination that makes desolate set up, there will be a thousand two hundred and ninety days (one month more than three and a half years). Blessed is he that waits, and comes to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days (two and a half months longer than three and a half years)<sup>34</sup>.

“But you, go your way till the end be: for you will rest, and stand in your lot at the end of the days.” — Daniel 12

Rv. 12:15 - και έβαλεν ho όφις εκ του στόματος αυτού οπίσω της γυναικός ήδωρ ήως ποταμόν ήνα αυτήν ποταμοφόρητον ποιήση

Rv. 12:15 - The serpent threw water as a river from its mouth, after the woman, so that it could make her flooded away [by the] river.

Satan prompted as much of a unit as Rome could spare from the business in Jerusalem and at Masada: this unit failed because the desert was too great to search for seemingly so small an objective.

Rv. 12:16 - και εβοήθησεν ηη γη τη γυναικί και ήνοιξεν ηη γη το στόμα αυτής και κατέπιεν τον ποταμόν ηον έβαλεν ho δράκων εκ του στόματος αυτού

Rv. 12:16 - The land (ηη γη, Ha’Aretz) helped the woman. The land (ηη γη, Ha’Aretz) opened her mouth. She drank down the river that the Dragon threw [down] from its mouth.

---

<sup>34</sup> Much disinformation is published concerning these dates: I do not know what they represent. However, if you told me that within a month of the end of the war, the Romans had erected an idol; but, it was so unpopular that it was torn down within another month and a half: I would be inclined to find such a report as entirely credible.

Rv. 12:17 - και ωργίσθη ho δράκων επί τη γυναικί και απήλθεν ποιήσαι πόλεμον μετά των λοιπών του σπέρματος αυτής των τηρούντων τας εντολάς του θεού και εχόντων την μαρτυρίαν ιησού

Rv. 12:17 - The Dragon was enraged with the woman. It came away to wage war with the rest of her seed, those guarding the commandments of God, those having the witness of Jesus. <sup>18</sup> It was stationed upon the sand of the sea.

Satan was forced to turn his attention to Christians still in Ha'Aretz. He has authority in the land: but not on the sea.

Satan's fall to earth explains his pursuit of Mary. Again, she is rescued by John, the Great Eagle, who we know was commissioned by Jesus to care for His mother.

The Serpent pours out the Roman army, like a flood: but, the land absorbs all the power of the Roman hoard... they have nothing left to pursue Mary into Idumea. When the Idumeans repented, since they were misled into participation in the fight by Jewish lies, they may have taken Mary and the Apostles with them.

Christ's followers are identified as, "those guarding the commandments of God". You cannot be a Christian without keeping the law of God, by grace, through faith.

"I believe in the Rule of Law: BIBLICAL LAW!

† The Law of God (Romans 7:22, 25)!

† The Law of Moses (John 7:23)!

- † The Law of Jesus (Galatians 6:2; 1 Corinthians 9:21)!
- † The Law of Liberty (James 1:25; 2:12)!
- † The Law of Life (Romans 8:2)!
- † The Law of the LORD (Luke 2:23, 24, 27)
- † The Law of Love (John 13:34)<sup>35</sup>!

Which are all different names for one and the same thing.

But, I cannot and do not obey this LAW by manmade works of righteousness. NO! This LAW is a free gift.

- † It was given to me out of love: the Father did that (John 3:16).
- † It was made a foundation so that I could build and walk safely and securely: Jesus did that (Ephesians 2:20).
- † It was cut into my heart so that I could obey it out of love: the Spirit did that (Romans 2:15-16; 2 Corinthians 3:3; Hebrews 8:10).

Besides all that Jesus walked, so that I could pick up my cross and know where to follow. Then the Holy Spirit brought help, and power for me to do the impossible; and when I am weak, He picks me up and carries me; and when I am dying, He takes me home. On top of that, our Father is the great potter: He is re-creating us to be perfect, righteous in every way; He is creating true righteousness within us.

---

<sup>35</sup> But Jesus loved them and us by fulfilling all the righteous demands of the Law.

And when I sin, in confession He forgives me: because, He is merciful; and the blood of Christ covers all my sin.

So, I obey this LAW I love; by grace, through faith: for there is not a single one of these things that I have done by myself; not even following Jesus: for, the Spirit had to direct and empower even that. I cannot even walk or crawl by myself. And in the flesh: well the Father created, feeds, and cares for that too. Not a single one of life's treasures came from me or you: all of them came from God. Gratitude is the necessary attitude. Forgiveness is the right response.

Jesus fulfilled all the righteous demands of the LAW for us. Jesus is the perfect LAW of God walking around on two feet... God-man feet.”

Revelation 13

Rv. 13:1 - και εστάθη επί την άμμον της θαλάσσης<sup>36</sup> και είδον εκ της θαλάσσης θηρίον αναβαίνον έχον κέρατα δέκα και κεφαλάς ηεπτά και επί των κεράτων αυτού δέκα διαδήματα και επί τας κεφαλάς αυτού ονόματα βλασφημίας

Rv. 13:1 - I saw Therion I coming up from the sea, having ten horns, seven heads, ten diadems upon its horns, and upon its heads a name of blasphemy.

---

<sup>36</sup> Some texts divide chapters 12 and 13 here.

Some believe that Revelation 12:18, “It was stationed upon the sand of the sea”, belongs as the opening phrase of Revelation 13:1.

The Dragon stands on the sand: his authority is limited. Christ stands on land and sea: His authority is universal and unlimited.

John continues with the second half of part C, of the chiasm.

Rv. 13:2 - και το θηρίον ήό είδον ην ήόμοιον παρδάλει και ηοι πόδες αυτού ήως άρκου και το στόμα αυτού ήως στόμα λέοντος και έδωκεν αυτό ήο δράκων την δύναμιν αυτού και τον θρόνον αυτού και εξουσίαν μεγάλην

Rv. 13:2 - The Therion (I) I saw is now like a leopard, its feet as a bear, its mouth as a lion's mouth. The Dragon gave it, its power, its throne, and great authority.

The picture is from Daniel 7.

Rv. 13:3 - και μίαν εκ των κεφαλών αυτού ήως εσφαγμένην εις θάνατον και ηη πληγή του θανάτου αυτού εθεραπεύθη και εθαυμάσθη ήόλη ηη γη οπίσω του θηρίου

Rv. 13:3 - One of its heads [is] as having been executed by Thanatos. Its Thanatos plague was healed. The whole land (ηη γη, Ha' Aretz) was astonished by the Therion (I).

This is a reference to the suicide/murder of Nero; followed by the Year of the Four Emperors<sup>37</sup>: during which, Roman government nearly collapsed. Vespasian pulled Rome out of the fire and brought it back to life; Titus continued the First Jewish-Roman war in his father's stead.

Rv. 13:4 - και προσεκύνησαν τω δράκοντι ἵνα ἔδωκεν τὴν ἐξουσίαν τῷ θηρίῳ καὶ προσεκύνησαν τῷ θηρίῳ λέγοντες τις ὅμοιος τῷ θηρίῳ καὶ τις δύναται πολεμήσαι μετ' αὐτοῦ

Rv. 13:4 - They prostrated before the Dragon: since, it gave the authority to the Therion (I). They prostrated before the Therion (I) saying, "What is like the Therion (I)? What has power to wage war with it?"

With the death of Nero and the near collapse of Roman government; for a few minutes Israel/Judah may have thought they had won the war. Vespasian and Titus quickly extinguish that delusion. With all hope gone, and God Himself seemingly destroyed, many turn to worship Vespasian, the new god and seeming victor,

As Israel/Judah fail, they turn to worship Rome, rather than confess Christ. Again, this Spiritual battle is about Christ vs. anti-Christ. Note that anti-Christ is almost always plural, rarely, if ever singular: anti-Christ are always a mob, rejecting the Father and the Son. There is no singular evil anti-Christ in human history, at least not yet.

Rv. 13:5 - καὶ ἐδόθη αὐτῷ στόμα λαλοῦν μεγάλα καὶ βλασφημίας καὶ ἐδόθη αὐτῷ ἐξουσία ποιῆσαι μῆνας τεσσαράκοντα [καὶ] δύο

---

<sup>37</sup> https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Year\_of\_the\_Four\_Emperors

Rv. 13:5 - A mouth was given to it speaking great [~~and~~] blasphemies. Authority was given to it to act [for] forty-two months (three and a half years).

Authority to wage war was granted by the Roman Senate.

Rv. 13:6 - και ήνοιξεν το στόμα αυτού εις βλασφημίας προς τον θεόν βλασφημήσαι το όνομα αυτού και την σκηνήν αυτού τους εν τω ουρανώ σκηνούντας

Rv. 13:6 - It opened its mouth in blasphemies against [~~the~~] God, to blaspheme His name and His Tent: [namely], those Camping<sup>38</sup> in the heaven.

Rv. 13:7 - [και εδόθη αυτώ ποιήσαι πόλεμον μετά των αγίων και νικήσαι αυτούς] και εδόθη αυτώ εξουσία επί πάσαν φυλήν και λαόν και γλώσσαν και έθνος

Rv. 13:7 - It was given to it to wage war with the Saints, to overcome them. Authority was given to it over every tribe, people, language, and nation.

Rv. 13:8 - και προσκυνήσουσιν αυτόν πάντες hoi κατοικούντες επί της γης ηου, ου γέγραπται το όνομα αυτού εν τω βιβλίω της ζωής του αρνίου του εσφαγμένου από καταβολής κόσμου

---

<sup>38</sup> The words tabernacle and tabernacling are not in use today. The Greek says, σκηνήν, and , σκηνούντας, or skins and skinning.

Rv. 13:8 - All those inhabiting [~~απὸ~~] the land (της γης, Ha' Aretz), whose names have<sup>39</sup> not been written in the book of life of the Lamb having been slain from [the] world's foundation, will prostrate themselves.

Rv. 13:9 - ει τις έχει ους ακουσάτω

Rv. 13:9 - If anyone has an ear, let them hear.

This is the same concluding message Christ gave to His Ekklesiae in Chapters 2 and 3. There it signaled the end of each letter, with the blessing, either before or after. We are about to read the blessing in the next chapter.

Rv. 13:10 - ει τις εις αιχμαλωσίαν εις αιχμαλωσίαν ηυπάγει ει τις εν μαχαίρη αποκτενεί δει αυτόν εν μαχαίρη αποκτανθήναι ήώδε εστίν ηη ηυπομονή και ηη πίστις των αγίων

Rv. 13:10 - If anyone [is headed] into captivity, they go into captivity. If anyone [is destined] to be killed with a saber they [go] to be killed with a saber. This is the perseverance, and the faith of the saints.

Chapter 13 looks at what we have proved to be The First Jewish-Roman war from an entirely new angle: it seems to identify the major participants in glowing detail. The Beast out of the Sea is surely Rome, and clarifies Roman involvement in The First Jewish-Roman war from a spiritual versus demonic perspective. The perseverance of the saints is seen as enduring imprisonment and/or death. The saints never escape in any “rapture”.

---

<sup>39</sup> This is singular, name has, in Greek.

Rv. 13:11 - και είδον άλλο θηρίον αναβαίνον εκ της γης και είχεν κέρατα δύο ήμοια αρνίω και ελάλει ήως δράκων

Rv. 13:11 - I saw another Therion (II) coming up from the land (της γης, Ha’Aretz). It now has two horns like a lamb. [But] It now talks as a Dragon.

John continues with the second half of part B, of the chiasm.

This is the Kingdom of Tares, the anti-Christ<sup>40</sup>, now pretending to be a Lamb: one of its characteristics will be the repeated promotion of false messiahs.

Rv. 13:12 - και την εξουσίαν του πρώτου θηρίου πάσαν ποιεί ενώπιον αυτού και ποιεί την γην και τους εν αυτή κατοικούντας ήνα προσκυνήσουσιν το θηρίον το πρώτον ήου εθεραπεύθη ήη πληγή του θανάτου αυτού

---

<sup>40</sup> All having heard the Gospel of Jesus, the Christ of Nazareth: that He is God, Who added to Himself human flesh in His incarnation, that He endured Crucifixion because He loved His Father as He loved us, that He was resurrected from the dead for the salvation of all mankind. He trampled down death by death. Anti-Christ<sup>s</sup> are all those of any and every ethnicity, who have heard this Good News and of their own will, decided to reject this Good News; and as a result, fight against it.

Rv. 13:12 - It takes all the authority of Therion the first (I) to itself. It makes the land (την γην, Ha'Aretz) and those dwelling it, that they will prostrate before Therion the first (I), whose plague of Thanatos was healed.

Rv. 13:13 - και ποιεί σημεία μεγάλα ήίνα και πυρ ποιή εκ του ουρανού καταβαίνειν εις την γην ενώπιον των ανθρώπων

Rv. 13:13 - It makes great signs, so that also it could make fire from the heaven<sup>41</sup> come down into the land (την γην, Ha'Aretz) before the people.

Rv. 13:14 - και πλανά τους κατοικούντας επί της γης διά τα σημεία ήά εδόθη αυτώ ποιήσαι ενώπιον του θηρίου λέγων τοις κατοικούσιν επί της γης ποιήσαι εικόνα τω θηρίω ήος έχει την πληγήν της μαχαίρης και έζησεν

Rv. 13:14 - It deludes those dwelling upon the land (της γης, Ha'Aretz) through the signs that it was given it to make before Therion (I), telling those dwelling upon the land (της γης, Ha'Aretz) to make an ikon to Therion (I) that has the blow of the saber and lived.

Rv. 13:15 - και εδόθη αυτή δούναι πνεύμα τη εικόνι του θηρίου ήίνα και λαλήση ήη εικόν του θηρίου και ποιήση [ήίνα] ήόσοι εάν μη προσκυνήσωσιν τη εικόνι του θηρίου αποκτανθήσιν

Rv. 13:15 - It was given it to give breath to the ikon of Therion (I), so that the ikon of Therion (I) could both talk and could perform, so that as many, if they would not prostrate before the ikon of Therion (I) would be killed.

---

<sup>41</sup> Propelled fire weapons were possibly in use since 400 BC.

Rv. 13:16 - και ποιεί πάντας τους μικρούς και τους μεγάλους και τους πλουσίους και τους πτωχούς και τους ελευθέρους και τους δούλους hina δώσιν αυτοίς χάραγμα επί της χειρός αυτών της δεξιάς η επί το μέτωπον αυτών

Rv. 13:16 - It makes all, the small and the great, the rich and the poor, the free and the slave, so that they would give them a brand upon their right hand or upon their forehead.

Rv. 13:17 - [και] hina μη τις δύνηται αγοράσαι η πωλήσαι ει μη ho έχων το χάραγμα το όνομα του θηρίου η τον αριθμόν του ονόματος αυτού

Rv. 13:17 - So, that no one would have power to buy or to sell except those having the brand, the name of Therion (I), or the number of its name.

Rv. 13:18 - hōde η σοφία εστίν ho έχων νουν ψηφισάτω τον αριθμόν του θηρίου αριθμός γαρ ανθρώπου εστίν και ho αριθμός αυτού hexakōsioi hexēkonta hex

Rv. 13:18 - Here is wisdom: Let those having ability calculate the number of Therion (I): for, it is a human number. Its number is six hundred sixty-six.

Similarly, the Beast out of the land is surely a mob of anti-Christ. As many deaths were brought about by those warring Jewish factions that fought against Christ — Pharisees, Sadducees, Herodians, Zealots, Sicarii, and peasants — as were caused by Roman armies. In the siege of Jerusalem, one faction burned all the food, so that the only remaining options were famine or fight. At least one of these factions supported Rome and the installation of Roman idols on the Temple mount. Many victims were branded and/or enslaved to ensure loyalty to Rome. Jewish slaves were even used in the assault on Masada (73 AD). Both Christians and Jews were said to have been branded: the Christian branding may have been the sign of the cross painted on the forehead in ashes, or it may have been something more apparent. The Jews are 666, whatever that means. It is unlikely that the Romans would have accepted phylacteries as fulfilling this requirement.

Revelation 14

Rv. 14:1 - και είδον και ιδού το αρνίον ηεστός επί το όρος σιών και μετ αυτού ηεκατόν τεσσεράκοντα τέσσαρες χιλιάδες έχουσαι το όνομα αυτού και το όνομα του πατρός αυτού γεγραμμένον επί των μετώπων αυτών

Rv. 14:1 - I saw. Look! The Lamb, having stood upon mount Zion; with Him one hundred forty-four thousand, having His name and the name of His Father having been written upon their foreheads.

God's Name is, I Am, in English, ἐγώ εἰμι, in Greek, roughly, Ehyeh Asher Ehyeh, in Hebrew. This Name is applied equally to the Father and to the Son in both testaments.<sup>42</sup>

John continues with the second half of part A, of the chiasm.

---

<sup>42</sup> https://www.academia.edu/94480889/Shapes\_of\_Trinity

Rv. 14:2 - και ήκουσα φωνήν εκ του ουρανού ηως φωνήν ηυδάτων πολλών και ηως φωνήν βροντής μεγάλης και ηη φωνή ηήν ήκουσα ηως κιθαρωδών κιθαριζόντων εν ταις κιθάραις αυτών

Rv. 14:2 - I heard a voice from the heaven, as a voice of many waters, as a voice of great thunder. The voice which I heard [was] as zitharodes zithering on their zithers.

John seems to be having fun here, playing with the zither word play: he may be expressing his pure joy at having ascended this mountain to Glory, having now returned to earth. This is why we didn't translate the word, zither, out of sight.

Rv. 14:3 - και άδουσιν ηως ωδήν καινήν ενώπιον του θρόνου και ενώπιον των τεσσάρων ζώων και των πρεσβυτέρων και ουδείς εδύνατο μαθείν την ωδήν ει μη ηαι ηεκατόν τεσσεράκοντα τέσσαρες χιλιάδες ηοι ηγορασμένοι από της γης

Rv. 14:3 - They sing as a new song before the throne; before the four Zoa; [before] the presbyters. No one now has power to learn the song except the one hundred forty-four thousand, having been purchased from the land (της γης, Ha'Aretz). This is the song of victory of Christ vs anti-Christ: the human anti-Christ are represented as Therion I, Therion II, and the false prophet

Rv. 14:4 - ηούτοι' εισίν ηοι μετά γυναικών ουκ εμολύνθησαν παρθένοι γαρ εισίν ηούτοι ηοι ακολουθούντες τω αρνίω ή όπου αν ηυπάγει ηούτοι ηγοράσθησαν από των ανθρώπων απαρχή τω θεώ και τω αρνίω

Rv. 14:4 - These are those not defiled with wives: for, they are virgins. These are those following the Lamb, wherever He would go. These were purchased from mankind, first-fruits to God, and to the Lamb: this is the evangelist army, some of the Ekklesiae of Christ.

We are wary of the excesses of celibacy: yet, the text says what it says. We think it might be fair to comment that these are so consumed with the Holy Spirit's work in following the Lamb, that they don't have time for marriage. The service of God and the Lamb requires unswerving focus. This celibacy may very well be the Spiritual celibacy of heaven, where humans, like angels, are not given in marriage (Matthew 22:30; Mark 12:25; Luke 20:35).

Rv. 14:5 - και εν τω στόματι αυτών ουχ ηευρέθη ψεύδος άμωμοι' εισίν

Rv. 14:5 - A lie was not found in their mouth. They are blameless.

Chapter 14 seems disjointed until the pattern of John's chiasm is seen. As soon as the chiasm is seen, the presence of the 144,000 clicks into place. The 144,000 are seen standing with Jesus on heavenly Zion: having been kept from wrath, through death. All, are viewed as martyrs: they are redeemed or bought from the land: in this context, redeemed seems to mean ascended into heaven... a purchase from the estate of the flesh into the estate of the spirit. This seems to emphasize that death does not terminate the ministry of departed spirits (Hebrews 12:22-29) compared to those still imprisoned (entombed) in fleshly bodies: ironic, then, to think of the living as entombed and the deceased as free.

Our joy is dulled somewhat, then shattered, as we are reminded that the Gospel also has a very sober side. We begin with the joy of the proclamation of the eternal Gospel for all peoples, as was promised to Abraham.

Rv. 14:6 - και είδον άλλον άγγελον πετόμενον εν μεσουρανήματι έχοντα ευαγγέλιον αιώνιον ευαγγελίσαι επί τους καθημένους επί της γης και επί παν έθνος και φυλήν και γλώσσαν και λαόν

Rv. 14:6 - I saw another messenger soaring in mid-heaven, having an eternal good news to proclaim to those sitting upon the land (της γης, Ha' Aretz), to every nation, tribe, language, and people,

The Gospel<sup>43</sup> is our triumphant message. Christ triumphs over anti-Christ. The Gospel is Eternal: it does not change by Dispensations.<sup>44</sup>

Rv. 14:7 - λέγων εν φωνή μεγάλη φοβήθητε τον θεόν και δότε αυτό δόξαν ήότι ήλθεν ηη ήώρα της κρίσεως αυτού και προσκυνήσατε τω ποιήσαντι τον ουρανόν και την γην και θάλασσαν και πηγάς ηυδάτων

Rv. 14:7 - telling in a great voice, “Let [~~the~~] God be feared. Give Him glory: since, the hour of His judgment came. Prostrate before the Maker of the heaven, the land (την γην, Ha' Aretz), sea, and springs of water.”

In 14:6, these events are to support the flying angelic preaching of the Gospel: possibly John or another Evangelist... again, it's declarative. Israel's task, which she so miserably failed, was to proclaim the promise to Abraham in the Messiah.

---

<sup>43</sup> All having heard the Gospel of Jesus, the Christ of Nazareth: that He is God, Who added to Himself human flesh in His incarnation, that He endured Crucifixion because He loved His Father as He loved us, that He was resurrected from the dead for the salvation of all mankind. He trampled down death by death.

<sup>44</sup> <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Dispensationalism>

The proclamation of the Gospel is immediately followed by the message of punishment and reaping, implying that this is the end of the world.

But, the Gospel is also a stern warning that God is to be feared. Yes, God is love. Yes, God's love is unconditional. Yes, God is our Father: but, as our unconditionally Loving Father, He practices tough love. His patience is not an excuse to His children that anything goes: He will be feared. Judgment is real.

Rv. 14:8 - και άλλος δεύτερος [άγγελος] ηκολούθησεν λέγων έπεσεν, έπεσεν, βαβυλών ηη μεγάλη ηη εκ του οίνου του θυμού της πορνείας αυτής πεπότικεν πάντα τα έθνη

Rv. 14:8 - Another, a second messenger followed, telling, "She fell! She fell! Babylon the Great, who from the wine of the wrath of her fornication has given drink to all the nations."

Another messenger declares the end of Jerusalem, called pejoratively, Babylon, Israel, called Babylon here, did not get away with anything. The wine is designated as being of her deviant sexual practices: specifically, fornication. While this can mean idolatry: we believe that it means that Israel/Judah used fornication, prostitution, sexual seduction to undermine the governments of other nations. We don't believe that fornication refers to her numerous idolatries: a clay idol in every pocket.

This fixes the date at exactly 70 AD: this notion of the end cannot be separated from the destruction of the Temple. Christ's cleansing of the Temple and His Crucifixion and Resurrection are precursors of the Temple's destruction, which also happens in three days.

Rv. 14:9 - και άλλος άγγελος τρίτος ηκολούθησεν αυτοίς λέγων εν φωνή μεγάλη ει τις προσκυνεί το θηρίον και την εικόνα αυτού και λαμβάνει χάραγμα επί του μετώπου αυτού η επί την χείρα αυτού

Rv. 14:9 - Another messenger, a third followed them telling in a great voice, "If anyone prostrates before Therion (I), its ikon, or receives a brand upon their forehead, or upon their hand.

God does not tolerate idolatry.

These are marks of slavery to Rome: the choices are Hail Caesar, or Hail Jesus Christ. Note how close Heil Hitler is to this. Lenin is similarly worshipped by some, today.

Rv. 14:10 - και αυτός πίεται εκ του οίνου του θυμού του θεού του κεκερασμένου ακράτου εν τω ποτηρίω της οργής αυτού και βασανισθήσεται εν πυρί και θείω ενώπιον αγγέλων αγίων και ενώπιον του αρνίου

Rv. 14:10 - They themselves will drink from the wine of the wrath of God, having been mixed undiluted in the cup of His wrath. They will be tested in fire and sulfur before the holy messengers and before the Lamb.

They will drink and they will be tested. The test for purity of gold is used as a symbol: it is thought to be somewhat painful. Gold is struck against a stone, leaving a mark on the stone; etching with acid burns away the dross, leaving pure gold behind: the purity of the item being tested is evaluated from what is left after the acid burn. If no gold is found, the test might be repeated. There is no indication whatsoever that the Ekklesiae are exempted from this test. The test unveils the golden purity of the faith of those being tested: it is pure Christ. The anti-Christs are exposed as pure dross: for, the acid test leaves only smoke and ashes. The gold we are testing for is a symbol for the blood of Christ: through faith we are being transformed into the body and blood of Jesus... Christlikeness (2 Corinthians 3:18).

Rv. 14:11 - και ho καπνός του βασανισμού αυτών εις αιώνας αιώνων αναβαίνει και ουκ έχουσιν ανάπαυσιν ημέρας και νυκτός ηοι προσκυνούντες το θηρίον και την εικόνα αυτού και ει τις λαμβάνει το χάραγμα του ονόματος αυτού

Rv. 14:11 - The smoke of their test goes up into ages of ages. Those not having rest day and night, those prostrating before Therion (I), and its ikon: if any receives the brand of its name.

In 14:9, a third messenger reiterates the punishment of branding, with the promise of drinking the dregs of God's wrath: which is true enough for Israel after The First Jewish-Roman war is ended.

Rv. 14:12 - hώδε ηη ηυπομονή των αγίων εστίν ηοι τηρούντες τας εντολάς του θεού και την πίστιν ιησού

Rv. 14:12 - Here is the perseverance of the saints: those guarding the commandments of God and the faith of Jesus.

Perseverance is surviving suffering: not escaping from it. There is no rapture in this sense.

Rv. 14:13 - και ήκουσα φωνής εκ του ουρανού λεγούσης γράψον μακάριοι ηοι νεκροί ηοι εν κυρίω αποθνήσκοντες απ άρτι ναι λέγει το πνεύμα ἵνα αναπαήσονται ἐκ τῶν κόπων αὐτῶν τα γὰρ ἔργα αὐτῶν ἀκολουθεῖ μετ αὐτῶν

Rv. 14:13 - I heard a voice from the heaven, saying, “Write, ‘Blessed [are] the dead, those dying in the Lord from now [on].’” “Yes,” the Spirit tells, “that they will be rested from their weariness: for, their works follow with them.”

Christians are tested for golden purity, side-by-side with the anti-Christ<sup>45</sup>: the difference is not the avoidance of such testing. Rather, Christians pass the test as pure gold; anti-Christ<sup>s</sup> fail the test as pure dross. Pure gold is the symbol of the pure blood of Christ.

14:12 echoes the call for perseverance of the saints: blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on. Christians do suffer all the torments of The First Jewish-Roman war until a few of them manage to escape to Idumea. John calls this First Jewish-Roman war, The Great Tribulation in other verses (Matthew 24:21; Revelation 2:22; 7:14). The idea that Christians will somehow escape a future greater tribulation is nonsensical. The whole idea of the perseverance of the saints is how we will all suffer persecution (Philippians 1:29-30; 2 Timothy 3:12).

---

<sup>45</sup> All having heard the Gospel of Jesus, the Christ of Nazareth: that He is God, Who added to Himself human flesh in His incarnation, that He endured Crucifixion because He loved His Father as He loved us, that He was resurrected from the dead for the salvation of all mankind. He trampled down death by death. Anti-Christ<sup>s</sup> are all those of any and every ethnicity, who have heard this Good News and of their own will, decided to reject this Good News; and as a result, fight against it.

The following verses have brought me great grief and pain in their reading and study. I have trouble understanding the compatibility of these verses, with the certainty that, “God is light”, “God is love”. At first I saw these verses as condemnatory, harsh, and judgmental: I had trouble disassociating them from the Lake of Fire; or from the false claim of others that God is so loving He never judges. Is that what these verses are? Condemnatory, harsh, and judgmental? Or, so loving that God never judges? We can’t have it both ways. Perhaps there is something else involved.

The modern human idea of justice is condemnation, judgment, punishment, retaliation, revenge. This is considerably different from God’s definition of justice which involves re-creation unto Christ-like perfection, mercy, and forgiveness. We were given a glimpse of God’s idea of justice, when we saw the Ark in heaven (Revelation 11:19). God’s justice is forgiving, merciful, patient. So, at the very start we face two distinctly different ideas of justice: the one abominable and wrong, the other good and holly.

Here, God compares the idea of justice with crop reaping? At first glance, this sounds cruel and harsh to us. However, to the farmer, there is nothing cruel or harsh about reaping, it is just part of the annual nature of the business: if crops were not reaped, they would just die and rot anyway... this suggests that the reaping of human beings means that they are spiritually ripe in some way. We hope to survive the reaping of the wheat. Harvest is a time of joy.

Still, the reaping of the grapes adds a new dimension which John associates with God’s wrath. So, when we are forced to face the bloodbath of the grapes, and realize that we are somehow like the grapes, the question probes more deeply into our inner nature. We hate what we see, and want to reject it. However, to the orchardist, this is just another normal part of doing business. There is nothing judgmental about it; every grape goes through it; bad grapes are thrown out before they reach the press: only the best grapes are made into wine.

This picture impacts our own evangelism, as we realize that we still have 5.6 billion brothers and sisters, that by application are being compared by God to these grapes.

Wrongly perceived, this picture is literally bloody terrifying: none of us ever really want to face death. I want to forget that I ever saw this picture, and go back and gaze upon the beauty of the Ark in Revelation 11:19: for I know that the Sh'kinah is there, the Father is there, the Son is there, and the Spirit is holding my hand. Nevertheless, this is death at the hand of Jesus and His Father, not death at the hand of Thanatos. This seems to symbolize the Judgment Seat of Christ (Romans 14:10; 2 Corinthians 5:10). It tells me how much I need Revelation 11:19.

Perhaps, the fact that John discusses testing before reaping explains the different perspectives. Before we are tested, we fear death. After we are tested, in Christ, we welcome death: we know we are coming home.

Rv. 14:14 - και είδον και ιδού νεφέλη λευκή και επί την νεφέλην καθήμενον ήμοιον ήυιόν ανθρώπου έχων επί της κεφαλής αυτού στέφανον χρυσούν και εν τη χειρί αυτού δρέπανον οξύ

Rv. 14:14 - I saw. Look! A white cloud! Sitting upon the cloud [was one] like a human<sup>46</sup> son having a golden wreath upon his head. In his hand [was] a sharp sickle.

This is Jesus, frequently called the Son of Man. He is the Great Reaper.

Rv. 14:15 - και άλλος άγγελος εξήλθεν εκ του ναού κράζων εν φωνή μεγάλη τω καθημένω επί της νεφέλης πέμψον το δρέπανον' σου και θέρισον ήότι ήλθεν ηη ήώρα θερίσαι ήότι εξηράνθη ηο θερισμός της γης

Rv. 14:15 - Another messenger went out from the temple, crying out in a great voice to the one sitting upon the cloud, “Send your sharp sickle. Reaper, since, the hour came to reap; since, the reaping of the land (της γης, Ha’Aretz) was ripened.”

Jesus’ communication with His Father in the Heavenly Temple seems complex to us. Perhaps the duality of messengers here, reflects the two witnesses of Revelation 11:3ff.

Rv. 14:16 - και έβαλεν ηο καθημενος επί της νεφέλης το δρέπανον αυτού επί την γην και εθερίσθη ηη γη

Rv. 14:16 - The one sitting upon the cloud threw his sickle upon the land (την γην, Ha’Aretz). The land (ηη γη, Ha’Aretz) was reaped.

---

<sup>46</sup> This is very obviously, the common Bible term, Son of Man, a title of Jesus. We were trying to show respect for the feminist claim that this is the Son of Mary.

We must visit this reaping again. It is filled with puzzling curiosities. No Tares are reaped. Why? Why not? If we love our enemies as we have been commanded, it is not possible that all the Tares have repented and become wheat, is it? In loving our enemies, we don't eventually win them all as friends, do we? Or do they simply disappear in smoke from the Lake of Fire? God, doesn't have a dark side, does He? I don't see an easy answer to these questions.

Rv. 14:17 - και άλλος άγγελος εξήλθεν εκ του ναού του εν τω ουρανώ έχων και αυτός δρέπανον οξύ

Rv. 14:17 - Another messenger went out from the temple in the heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

Does John intend to say that there are two reapers? Who is this second reaper, if not Jesus? Is the reaping of grapes fundamentally different spiritually from the reaping of wheat? Is John leaving room for the Holy Spirit here?

Rv. 14:18 - και άλλος άγγελος [εξήλθεν] εκ του θυσιαστηρίου [ho] έχων εξουσίαν επί του πυρός και εφώνησεν φωνή μεγάλη τω έχοντι το δρέπανον το οξύ λέγων πέμψον σου το δρέπανον το οξύ και τρύγησον τους βότρυας της αμπέλου της γης ή ότι ήκμασαν ηαι σταφυλαί αυτής

Rv. 14:18 - Another messenger from the altar, having authority over the fire. He voiced a great voice to the one having the sharp sickle, saying, "Send your sharp sickle. Gather the grape clusters from the grapevine of the land (της γης, Ha'Aretz); since, her clusters were ripe."

Again, as with the absence of Tares from the wheat; no bad grapes are in view here: most likely, any bad grapes would already be cast aside. This is not the judgment of those written in the Lambs' Book of Life, is it (Romans 14:10; 2 Corinthians 5:10)?

Rv. 14:19 - και έβαλεν ho άγγελος το δρέπανον αυτού εις την γην και ετρύγησεν την άμπελον της γης και έβαλεν εις την ληνόν του θυμού του θεού τον μέγαν

Rv. 14:19 - The messenger threw his sickle into the land (την γην, Ha'Aretz). He gathered the grapevine of the land (της γης, Ha'Aretz). He threw [it] into the winepress of the great wrath of God.

We do not understand exactly why this is called, “the winepress of the great wrath of God”: since, this is part of the normal harvesting process, with a pure input and a pure output. On the other hand, if this is intended to point to the fact that Jesus received the great wrath of God in Crucifixion, in which we symbolically participate — in communion, and as we pick up our crosses and follow Jesus, and in the sufferings of perseverance. If this is the case: then, this is an event of great joy, not of sorrow (Acts 5:41; Romans 5:2–3; 2 Corinthians 4:17; Galatians 2:20).

Rv. 14:20 - και επατήθη ηη ληνός έξωθεν της πόλεως και εξήλθεν ηαίμα εκ της ληνού άχρι των χαλινών των ήιππων από σταδίων χιλίων ηεξακοσίων

Rv. 14:20 - The winepress was trod outside of the city. Blood went out from the winepress up to the horse's bridles for a thousand six hundred stadia.

None of these grapes is sour or defective, are they? Their blood does not flow inside of Jerusalem. This blood flows outside of the city where Jesus was Crucified. Could this be the blood of Christ? Or, could this be the blood of Christ flowing in the Ekklesiae as they follow and become like Him? In either case, the sufficiency of the blood is enough for eight billion people with all their ancestors; sixteen billion; thirty-two billion, or more. We know that there is sufficiency in the blood of Christ: is this John's way of expressing that sufficiency? Or are we looking at the death of the wicked? Why outside of the city? Why are there two reapers? Why would the wheat be a symbol of good, and the grapes a symbol of evil? There are more questions here than we know how to answer.

We believe that this refers to the blood and death of Christ, which flows also in His Ekklesiae, and which is sufficient for all mankind from Adam and Eve, unto the ages of the ages.

We believe that this River of Blood is best understood in parallel with the River of Water of Life in Revelation 22:17. Both rivers are presented at the close of their respective books.

14:14 introduces yet another perspective, as Jesus reaps the land — γῆς, γῆν, γῆ: land, the promised land... the reaping of the Gentiles will come later. Each of us is personally reaped in death, and face judgment accordingly, and the vines. Josephus says that enormous volumes of blood flowed from the Temple mount. John says that the blood flowed outside of the city, where Christ our LORD was Crucified.

We have proved conclusively and definitively that this is the First Jewish-Roman war. Revelation 11:8 is the answer to that question.

“Their fallen [bodies] [will lie], on the plateau of the great city, which is called spiritually, Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified.” — Revelation 11:8

“With the three and a half days, a spirit of life from God entered into them. They stood upon their feet. Great fear fell upon those watching them. They heard a great voice from the heaven saying to them, “Come up here.” They ascended into the heaven in the cloud.” — Revelation 11:11-12

“The Temple of [~~the~~] God, in heaven was opened. The Ark of His Covenant was seen in His Temple. Beams of light, sounds, thunders, shaking, and great hail were brought forth.” — Revelation 11:19

Chapter 14 ended so abruptly with the reaping of the land (Ha’Aretz): it is as if the book of Revelation had ended there, and a new second book of Revelation was begun. Why? It’s not as though Jesus didn’t warn us.

“He vowed to the One Living into the ages of the ages, Who, created the heaven and the [things] in it; the land (την γην, Ha’Aretz) and the [things] in her; the sea and the [things] in her; since, time will be no more.” — Revelation 10:6

What is that, if it is not the declaration of the absolute end of everything?
And again:

“The nations were enraged. [But], Your wrath came: the time of the dead to be judged; to give wages to Your servants: the prophets; the saints; those fearing Your name; [both] the small and the great; and to destroy those destroying the land (την γην, Ha’Aretz).” — Revelation 11:18

Well, if not the end of everything, at least the end of Israel/Judah; or at least the end of the First Jewish-Roman war; or at least the end of the Temple on earth. In some mysterious sense, this is the end. So, why is the end of the book nestled in the middle?

Perhaps we will be less confused when we remember that Jesus has used this sort of construction before. In Matthew 13:3-8, Jesus taught the Parable of the Sower without naming it.

In Matthew 13:9 He says, “If anyone has an ear, let them hear.” Where have we heard that before? Perhaps this is a tip that the whole book of Revelation is a giant parable.

Then, in Matthew 13:18, Jesus introduces the explanation of the Parable of the Sower (Matthew 13:18-23) with the words, “You therefore, Hear the parable of the sower.”

We don't think it accidental that this is followed immediately by the Parable of the Tares in Matthew 13:24ff

Following these hints, we now name Revelation Chapters 1-14:

The Parable of the Great Reaper.

Similarly, Revelation Chapters 15-22, will now be titled:

Hear, The Parable of the Great Reaper,

or,

Explanation of The Parable of the Great Reaper.

We are reluctant to footnote this because of the many fanciful and superstitious ideas associated with the name: but, if we must....<sup>47</sup>

“When [Jesus] ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.” — Ephesians 4:8

“[Jesus] You have ascended on high, You have led captivity captive: You have received gifts for men; yes, for the rebellious also, that the LORD God might dwell among them.” — Psalms 68:18

“Eye has not seen, nor ear heard, neither has entered into the heart of man, the things which God has prepared for those who love Him.” — 1 Corinthians 2:9; Isaiah 64:4

Soli Deo Gloria

Amen

48

---

<sup>47</sup> https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Personifications\_of\_death

<sup>48</sup> If you have been blessed or helped by any of these meditations, please repost, share, or use any of them as you wish. No rights are reserved. They are designed and intended for your free participation. They were freely received, and are freely given. No other permission is required for their use.

---